

Kingston Has Superior Market Rating in Nation

Steady Advances in Degree of Income Are Shown in Comparison With Cities in State; Figures Are Given

The City of Kingston is a superior and exceptionally well-balanced market in any perspective—national, regional or state—comparison of data contained in the current Sales Management survey vividly reveals.

Kingston with its quality of market index ranks 13 in the United States in the classification of 25,000 to 30,000 population of which there are 231 cities, although it ranks 192 in population in this group. Only 111 of these cities measure up as superior markets, Kingston included, and of this select group but 54 scored the maximum number of points of superiority.

The steady advances made in Kingston in recent years in the field of merchandise and income per family and income per capita are further revealed in comparison with other New York State cities.

In food purchases, long considered a major index of a city's standard of living, Kingston ranks fifth in New York State with a total volume of $11,175,000.

Here are comparative figures in this category with other cities of much larger population:

White Plains	$25,202,000
Poughkeepsie	19,692,000
Newburgh	13,297,000
Jamestown	12,539,000
Kingston	11,175,000

Also in the general merchandise field, Kingston stands fifth in New York State with a total volume of $5,109,000.

A comparison with other cities shows the following:

White Plains	$10,821,000
Poughkeepsie	9,891,000
Watertown	7,656,000
Newburgh	6,579,000
Kingston	5,109,000

In retail sales, Kingston ranks seventh in the state with a total volume of $35,806,000.

Comparative figures with other larger cities are listed below:

White Plains	$82,522,000
Poughkeepsie	62,051,000
Jamestown	45,307,000
Newburgh	44,638,000
Watertown	41,481,000
Auburn	37,637,000
Kingston	35,806,000

This rating marks Kingston a very high quality market and reflects great credit upon the merchants of the community, who are

Mediator Chief Is in New York

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, today personally entered bogged down negotiations in the 15-day-old east coast shipping tieup.

Arriving here from Washington, Ching immediately went into conference with a panel of mediators who have been trying to settle the strike.

Ching arrived as committees for the striking A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association and the strike-bound New York Shipping Association stood by for a joint meeting.

Employers say they are "unanimously resolved" not to make any further offers to the 65,000 striking dock workers. And the union is standing pat on 11 demands, including one for a pay increase.

The employers' position was announced last night in a lengthy written statement issued by John V. Lyon, chairman of the New York Shipping Association.

Although it has nothing new to offer, the employers' negotiating committee said it would remain "subject to call" by the U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service which is attempting to settle the strike.

The employer group also said it would attend a joint session today with the strikers' committee.

The employers' statement—which apparently left the door open for considering further union proposals—contained a full account of the employers' present position and listed details of their offers to date, and the union's rejection.

The statement concluded: "The wage increases and substantial improvements in their working conditions that have been gained by the longshoremen through negotiations over past years are ample proof that costly strikes have not been needed in our industry to achieve high wages and improved working conditions."

"The present work stoppage, which widely affects many other workers dependent on our industry, is therefore, all the more regrettable and unnecessary."

The employers have offered benefits including a ten-cent boost in the day-shift straight-time pay from $1.75 to $1.85 an hour and a 15-cent rise in the night and week-end overtime rate from $2.62½ to $2.77½ an hour. The union is demanding increases of 25 and 37½ cents, respectively, along with other benefits.

A survey by the U. S. Maritime Commission of the 700-mile strike-bound coast from Maine to Virginia showed yesterday that 249 ships were tied up in five major ports.

President Might Curb Price Bids

Action Will Be Based on Whether Drop in Living Costs Goes Further.

Spending Looms Overseas, Military Items Are Vital Factors in Inflation

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A slight but welcome dip in living costs raised the possibility today that President Truman might tone down his demand for "stand-by" price control and rationing powers when Congress meets in January.

Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said a continued ebb in prices, washing out the need for drastic controls, would be "swell." But he didn't predict that would happen.

"It would be like seeing a fever chart go down," Nourse told a reporter, "but we aren't drawing any conclusions yet."

His comment came after the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported last night that its cost-of-living index for October showed a dip of one half of one per cent. This was the first drop in seven months for the index as a whole.

Another top government fiscal official said privately he believes inflationary forces still have the upper hand. And Chester Bowles, one-time boss of U. S. A. and governor-elect of Connecticut, said after a White House visit that Congress "unquestionably" will act against inflation.

Behind all the guesswork lay the big question of what will happen overseas—how much more money will have to go for foreign aid and national defense.

Some influential White House advisers are known to feel that any substantial rise over Mr. Truman's present $15,000,000,000 ceiling on next year's military outlays could set the inflation spiral whirling again.

On the other hand, Nourse has stated that, were it not for foreign aid spending and rearmament, "deflationary" evidences would by this time have become clearly evident."

B.L.S. said food alone was responsible for the October drop in living costs. Groceries and meats declined "substantially" to carry the index down despite price rises in all other major commodities.

The price of the agency said it was the third straight monthly drop for foodstuffs.

The consumer price drop reflected a decline since August in wholesale prices. It followed, also, reports of a lag behind in 1947 department store business.

The relief for householders was slight, however. The index was only half a percentage point under the record high set in August and September, stood at 73.6 per cent above the 1935-39 average.

B.L.S. underscored this point with a timely comparison: The Thanksgiving dinner that last year cost $5.12 for a family of four will cost $5.47 tomorrow. The increase is seven per cent.

(That was a one-month estimate which did not include the cost of possible leftovers. The bureau figured, for example, that four people would eat five pounds of turkey costing $3.70—although the whole bird, weighing perhaps 12 or 14 pounds, would cost more.)

For the moment, Washington was concerned mainly with the effect of the price downturn on the kind of legislation Mr. Truman will ask of the new Democratic Congress in January.

Some officials close to the White House said he would be only too happy to tell Congress, if he could, that the control measures he asked of the 80th Congress appear no longer needed.

Bids Are Received

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—The State Public Works Department received today low bids totaling more than $4,960,000 on seven highway construction projects in as many counties. The largest job provides for initial construction on the Major Deegan Expressway in Van Cortlandt Park in Bronx county. Low bidder on the project was the Delma Engineering Corp. of New York city with a bid of $1,278,000.

Truman, Marshall Hold Foreign Affairs Talk

Christmas Buying Starts Early With Big Rush Ahead

Busy Month Is Indicated for Merchants; Needy Are Not Forgotten in Kingston

Christmas spirit is beginning to make itself felt in Kingston this week, with the distribution of Christmas Club checks, the start of the annual Christmas Seal Sale, the decoration of streets and increasing numbers of early shoppers.

Merchants reported generally that early shopping so far has about equalled that of last year and they are preparing for the start of the "heavy" shopping season immediately following Thanksgiving.

An increased use of the layaway plan has been noted by a number of merchants. Under this plan, customer is able to select an article of merchandise and it will be held by the store for delivery prior to Christmas. It is generally used for the more expensive items, such as jewelry and furniture.

Various projects to bring Christmas cheer to less fortunate persons are either underway or are in the final planning stages. The Kingston Community Christmas Cheer Committee has been organized, and the first checks began coming in early this week. The annual Salvation Army campaign is expected to start the first week in December.

From all indications, Kingston will be better decorated, due to the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce with its street lighting program and its home and school decorating programs, than last year, but there will be less pauper and official ceremonies than before.

No plans have yet been made to secure the appearance of Santa Claus for a pre-Christmas parade on the streets, which was done in past years by various businessmen's groups.

Under present plans, as announced by Al Kurdt, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the official opening of the street lighting and decorations will be observed merely by throwing the switch, but without the parade and speeches of last year.

A meeting of the Kingston Decorating Committee was held this week to discuss the progress of the street lighting installations, but the exact date that the lights will be turned on has not been established because of the fact that work has been delayed by inclement weather. In all probability the lights will be turned on December 3," Kurdt announced.

Decorations Begin

Christmas decorations in the stores seem to be following the erection of the street decorations, and in the uptown section Tuesday afternoon, where the work in the streets has been completed, several merchants were seen decorating their windows and storefronts.

Jay Melton, manager of Standard Furniture Company's store on Fair street, was supervising the decoration of one of that company's windows Tuesday afternoon. He said that Christmas shopping began quite early this season, and he expects a heavy increase after this week-end. He agreed that many persons are using the layaway plan, and cautioned those in need of delivery service to schedule this service as early as possible to avoid disappointment if a last minute rush causes late shipments.

Richard Meyer, jeweler, reported sales just slightly slower than last year at this time, but added that more persons are using the layaway plan. He noted that he already cashed a few Christmas Club checks, most of which were only mailed out to be received early this week.

As in past years, the items sought mostly as gifts from jewelry shops are wristwatches, Mrs. Leonard B. Styles reported.

Eugene Cyr, assistant manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, reported a large volume of early sales in the toy department, with early shopping noticeable also in all other departments.

Chinese Ambassador Koo Is Scheduled to Visit White House; U. S. Is Due to Spend Billions, No Matter What

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall today held their second foreign affairs conference of the week. The Chinese crisis was believed to be foremost among the problems up for early decision.

Even as Marshall entered the White House at 9:45 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, the press office announced that Mr. Truman would receive Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo later in the day.

Marshall talked with Mr. Truman for 25 minutes. He declined when he left the White House to tell reporters anything about the discussion. Smiling, he said he always left it to the President whether anything was to be given out about a White House conference.

There was no immediate indication of the purpose of the Truman-Koo meeting. But it stirred speculation that advanced progress has been made by the President, General Marshall and other top government officials in their study of what to do about the China situation.

Some officials believe the Communist sweep in China is certain to cost the United States more billions in foreign aid over the next few years whether or not grand scale aid is given to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

As policy planners here see the picture, two poles stand out: 1. If President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall determine that China still can be saved from communism—and decide to go ahead with an aid program—they will have to ask the new Congress for several hundred million dollars at least. And that would be just a starter, since any new China program is regarded as a long-term undertaking.

2. If—in spite of American help or without it—all China falls to the Communists, the task of rebuilding Japan and providing it with a stable economy will be much more costly. That is because Japan would find trade relations with Communist China more difficult.

In addition, if a Communist China should prove actively hostile to the west in the cold war, military leaders might consider it essential to strengthen American defenses in the Western Pacific. That, however, is no more than a

Police Are Probing Theft, Wrecking Of Two Local Cars

Autos Reported Stolen Found by Police in Smashed Condition, Abandoned

Police investigation of two car thefts proceeded today on the theory that both were taken by the same person. Each was found wrecked and abandoned.

Frank Prusack, 44 Third avenue, reported at 5:32 a. m. that his sedan was taken from in front of his house between 5 and 5:30 a. m. while he was eating breakfast.

A report at 6:10 a. m. said the car was found wrecked in front of 138 Foxhall avenue. It had struck another auto and then crashed into a tree.

Officers Gerald Every and Edward Leonard, who had been alerted when the theft was first reported, were at the scene immediately after the accident on Foxhall avenue, but were unable to find the driver.

The front seat of the car was found on the street and it appeared as though the driver might have been thrown out in the accident. A witness furnished the police with a sketchy description indicating that the driver was young, had red hair, wore a black and white jacket or shirt, and was believed to be injured. He was seen running from the scene.

John Epstein, 24 West Pierpont street, reported to the police at 8:10 a. m. that a coupe belonging to the Terry Brick Co. was stolen from in front of his home during the night, and he had been informed that it was found wrecked and abandoned on the Devil's Lake road.

Officers Leonard and Every reported later that the car was "straddling a culvert" on First avenue near Hooker street.

Reports indicated that the car was not in front of Epstein's house at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday, and the police now believe it possible that the person who took this auto, rode in it for some time and took the Prusack car after wrecking the first.

Prusack was able to drive his auto home, and Epstein said he would have the other vehicle removed from the First avenue culvert.

Two Bribery Convictions Upheld by Appeals Court

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Court of Appeals upheld today the bribery convictions of two professional gamblers sentenced for trying to "fix" the National Professional Football League's championship game in 1946.

There was no opinion. Six judges concurred. Associate Judge Thomas D. Thacher took no part. Harvey Stemmer, 37, and David (Pete) Krakower, 42, were sentenced March 8, 1947, in New York City General Sessions Court to Sing Sing prison terms of five to 10 years.

They were convicted of bribing participants in professional sports, a felony.

The pair, together with Jerome Zarowitz, was described in court as "the masterminds" behind Alvin J. Paris' attempt to bribe two members of the New York Giants

Six Others Also to Die On Gallows

Sixteen Will Spend Life in Prison, Two Are Given Lesser Terms Under Order

Appeal Is Likely, Attorneys Will Ask Review by Supreme Court of U. S.

Tokyo, Nov. 24 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur today denied clemency for Japan's 25 top war criminals and ordered the execution of Hideki Tojo and six others who dreamed of conquest but lost an empire.

As sole reviewing officer, he declined to use his power to lighten any of the sentences determined by the international military tribunal—seven to die on the gallows; 16 to spend the rest of their lives in prison, two to lesser prison terms.

The supreme commander called his task "utterly repugnant" to him. He closed his review of the war guilt case with a plea to people of all creeds in Japan to pray on execution day—yet to be made public—to help the world keep the peace, "lest the human race perish."

Attorneys for five defendants planned to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States which has never yet intervened in international war crimes cases.

Those sentenced to death were: Tojo, army commander and premier at the outbreak of the war; Gen. Kenji Doihara, known as the sly, ruthless "Lawrence of Manchuria"; Koki Hirota, former premier; Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, former war minister; Gen. Heitaro Kimura, Manchurian commander; Gen. Iwane Matsu, whose troops perpetrated the rape of Nanking; and Lt. Gen. Akira Muto, who fought in the Philippines.

None of the seven sentenced to death are included in the five expected to appeal. The five were convicted of "crimes against peace." The defense lawyers, arguing the tribunal was, in effect, an American military court, say there is no such thing as American statutes or under the U. S. Constitution and therefore they were sentenced to prison under a law that does not exist. The seven condemned men were convicted of violating the laws of war, recognized as punishable by death by military tribunals.

Attorneys listed the five as: Mamoru Kido, adm. Shigetaro Shimada, Gen. Kenryo Sato, adm. Takasumi Oka, all given life, and Shigenori Togo, Pearl Harbor foreign minister, sentenced to 20 years.

Lt. Gen. Walton Walker, commander of the Eighth Army, said the execution date has not been set but the seven men will be given a "reasonable time" before they are hanged, presumably at Sugamo prison in Tokyo. Only official witnesses will be allowed. Correspondents will be barred, Walker said. No pictures will be taken.

In his review, MacArthur said it is inevitable that many will disagree with the verdict. Even the tribunal justices, he pointed out, were not entirely in accord.

"But no moral agency in the present imperfect evolution of civilized society seems more entitled to confidence in the integrity of its (the tribunal's) solemn pronouncements," he said. Interviewers asked Japanese at random what they thought. They were not surprised that MacArthur did not show leniency. If he had, they said, the judges would have lost face—and face is important in the Orient.

Body Is Unclaimed

Baltimore, Nov. 24 (AP)—The body of Lewis (Hack) Wilson, the National League's former home run king, lay unclaimed today in the city hospital morgue. John O. Mitchell, neighborhood undertaker who had befriended the one-time "bad boy" of professional baseball, said neither he nor the hospital had received word from any of Wilson's relatives. Hack died here yesterday of internal hemorrhages complicated by a lung condition similar to pneumonia. Mitchell said a group of friends in Wilson's neighborhood were rounding up money for burial expenses. He said he had received a call from the National League office in New York with a promise to underwrite some of the funeral expenses.

Council Votes Election Payment

McCardle Application Asks Zoning Change Be Allowed

The Common Council last night voted to pay election workers their original claim of $4,315 and proposed including in next year's budget a sum sufficient to pay each worker $2 for the three hours extra served last election day.

The meeting was one of two special sessions, and the second was to consider application of Francis McCardle for a zone change. The applicant requests a property at 97-99 Henry street be designated as in the business zone, and the application was referred to the laws and rules committee, city assessor and city engineer.

McCardle's application carries about 150 signatures and specifies that the place would be operated as a funeral parlor.

A resolution recommending the extra $2 for each election clerk and inspector because the polls closed this year at 9 p. m. instead of 6 p. m., was offered by Ninth Ward Alderman F. J. Schatzel and seconded by Tenth Ward Alderman J. J. Carroll.

Under its provisions the extra amount would be included in the mayor's 1949 budget and paid to the election workers during January, 1949.

Grimes Is Appointed

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Thomas E. Grimes of St. Albans, Vt., was appointed today confidential law secretary to the State Court of Appeals. Grimes succeeds Arthur Karger, who resigned from the $6,450 a year post on October 22 to join a New York city law firm. The appointment, effective immediately, was announced by Chief Judge John T. Leachman. Grimes has been law secretary to Judge Leachman since 1943. He served former Associate Judge Edward R. Finch in 1942 and 1943 in the same capacity. Grimes was graduated from Columbia Law School in 1940.

Will Sift All Answers to Proposals in Effort to Get New Clue

Paris, Nov. 24 (AP)—Six neutral members of the United Nations Security Council took up again today their task of trying to break through the East-West deadlock on Berlin.

The neutrals will sift through American, British, French and Russian answers to a questionnaire on Berlin's currency problems in an effort to find a clue to a means of halting the cold war.

Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, president of the Security Council for November, submitted the questionnaire to the four powers and then turned the replies over to the other six members for study. The neutrals are Argentina, Belgium, Canada, China, Colombia and Syria.

A United Nations official said late today that Bramuglia, without explaining, had decided not to publish the replies today. Argentine sources said earlier the Soviet and western answers would be made public at 5 p. m. (11 a. m. E.S.T.) today. The official said the answers probably will be made available Thursday morning.

Because currency is one of the chief causes of friction between the western powers and Russia in Berlin, Bramuglia is seeking to get at the root of the discord by solving the money problem.

The United States, Britain and France introduced their western German currency in the western sectors of Berlin last spring. Soon afterward, in June, Russia began its blockade of the capital city by halting all transportation except air traffic between Berlin and the western occupation zones.

Russia has refused to lift the blockade until the western powers accept Soviet currency in all four sectors of the city. The western powers, on the other hand, have refused to negotiate the currency or any other questions until the blockade is lifted.

It was reported that the neutrals are seeking additional information from the Big Four powers. Bramuglia conferred for almost an hour with the four powers.

Landlords Plan to Ask Congress Probe of Board

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—A group of organized landlords plans to seek a "sweeping congressional investigation" of a governmental board which turned down a petition for a 15 per cent rent increase affecting 1,877,000 dwelling units.

The threat was made yesterday by the Metropolitan Fair Rent Committee against the New York City Rent Advisory Board and also against U. S. Housing Expediter T. H. Woods.

The board, which functions under the T. H. Woods act, rejected last Monday the rent hike petition affecting federally-controlled dwellings in New York city and in Nassau and Suffolk counties on Long Island.

The landlords group saying it was "shocked" by the board's decision, announced at a press conference that it would seek a congressional inquiry.

Among the landlords' charges against the board were that it had shown "partiality," delayed hearings on the petition, was overweighed by tenant representatives in its membership and was influenced by "public clamor."

William E. Russell, general chairman of the landlord group, complained that Woods had been "remiss" in handling the petition, and declared:

"There's no use appealing to the expediter and there's no use appealing to the courts. It would take too long. We will ask an investigation by the Senate and House Banking and Currency Committees as soon as Congress convenes in January."

"New York city is greatly in need of apartment house construction, but this industry has been kicked around so much by politics that you can't expect these men to build new houses. There's no incentive. The alternative is complete socialization of the housing industry."

Apply for Doubt Papers In Dr. Paul Singer Case

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—State Supreme Court Justice Felix C. Enverga had under consideration today an application for a certificate of reasonable doubt made by Dr. Paul Singer of Jersey City, N. J. Singer, convicted in the death of Jane Ward, baking fortune teller, was sentenced last Friday to two and a half to five years imprisonment. He was convicted on manslaughter charges growing out of an alleged abortion on Miss Ward. Dr. Alejandro Ovalle, 48-year-old Chilean, was sentenced to one year. Another defendant, Dr. Oswald Glasberg, committed suicide in his prison cell last July.

Singer's attorney, Edward H. Levine, said in the application that hearsay evidence was improperly admitted at Singer's trial. Levine said corroborative proof of the commission of the abortion was lacking. Singer's guilt, he added, had "not been clearly established."

Increased deficits of railways have caused New Zealand to augment its subsidies to the roads.

Feinberg Has Measure

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—State Senator Benjamin Feinberg says he will sponsor a bill in the next Legislature at dealing "effectively" with undesirable comic books. Feinberg, who has been

Senate majority leader since 1944, told a news conference yesterday that "unquestionably certain so-called comic books" had been a "contributing factor to the rising wave of juvenile delinquency." The Plattsburgh Republican contended that "many of these books constitute an evil and demoralizing influence upon the minds of the younger generation." He said he had no particular books in mind. However, he added that he had requested his research counsel to make an "intensive and exhaustive study of the situation."

Little Red Takes It Gleeefully; He Is Used to Trick

Several times each week shoppers in the uptown or midtown business districts may see a Welch pony with a small road cart tied to a parking meter.

The pony, Little Red, belongs to Mrs. Florence S. Moore of 98 Elmendorf street. Mrs. Moore is proud of Little Red, who, she reports, is able to trot from here to Mt. Marion in one hour and 10 minutes.

A former resident of Maryland, Mrs. Moore has handled horses since the age of six. She is a former member of the Woodstock Riding Club and still keeps a saddle horse which she rides. She is 65 years old, but looks 20 years younger. She has lived in Kingston six years.

Mrs. Moore at one time had an automobile, but during the war experienced trouble obtaining parts and was unable to buy a new auto, so she decided to use the cart and pony for all her shopping. The cart is a small, two-wheeled affair, with a single seat and with a seemingly small box for carrying articles. "You'd be surprised how much that box will hold," Mrs. Moore said.

About a month ago, she had a little difficulty with the local police department over hitching Little Red to a parking meter, but the difficulty was settled to Mrs. Moore's satisfaction.

She had hitched her pony to a meter on central Broadway, and was given a ticket by a local patrolman who thought the procedure unusual. She brought the matter to the attention of Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren, and after a careful reading of the parking meter ordinance, the police chief declared that he could find nothing prohibiting the use of a meter station as a hitching post. Mrs. Moore always deposits the required coins in the meters at which she "parks" Little Red.

In addition to horses, Mrs. Moore raises puppies, some of which she offers for sale. Her vocation, however, is nursing. She was graduated from a nursing school in Baltimore, Md., in 1908.

Bishop Protests Report On Methodist Federation

Newark, N. J., Nov. 24 (AP)—The House Un-American Activities Committee last night drew censure from Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam for what he called "a futile attempt to discredit the word 'Protestant'."

The bishop had reference to a committee report issued Tuesday which called the Methodist Federation for Social Action "a tool of the Communist party."

Oxnam told the northern New Jersey Conference of the Methodist Church:

"The Committee on Un-American Activities, whose chairman is under indictment for activities allegedly un-American and criminal, has now presumed to speak in the field of religion."

(Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R.-N. J.), committee chairman, has been charged with making false salary claims against the government.)

Protestants, Oxnam said, "believe the conspirators who would destroy our freedom can be ferreted out and properly punished better by the painstaking and patriotic procedures of the F.B.I. than by the hearsay and un-American procedure of this committee."

The committee report was made public in a summation entitled "100 things you should know about Communism and religion."

The Methodist Church, the bishop said, adopted an official position in 1936, stating:

"Believing in both the democratic form and the democratic ideal, we propose to resist every form of dictatorship, whether it comes from the left of Communism or the right of Fascism."

It is singularly strange," he added, "that the committee on Un-American Activities should have been silent concerning the Fascist threat to our freedom."

The Rev. Jack R. McMichael, executive director of the Methodist Federation for Social Action, Tuesday called the committee charges "ridiculous and untrue."

Anaretica, or the Anaretic continent, is said to have an area of about 5,000,000 square miles.

Turkey Demand May Cut Supply For Yule Season

(By The Associated Press)

Turkey prices this Thanksgiving week have been nearly 20 per cent higher than last year—but they do not seem to have scared many housewives out of the market.

On the contrary, it appears the demand—coupled with decreased production—may cause a shortage of birds for Christmas.

A survey of key cities showed prices for the holiday bird averaging about 75 cents a pound for young hen turkeys, and about 65 cents for the bigger, toms of 16 pounds and over.

There were abundant supplies of the other good foods that make up the Thanksgiving dinner—and at prices just about the same as last year's. Cranberries, celery and citrus fruits were especially plentiful.

For dressed, top-grade, small turkeys, some stores in New York, Atlanta and San Francisco were asking 85 to 89 cents a pound—and getting it.

The same quality fowl cost shoppers around 35 to 40 cents back in pre-war 1941.

Here's the price range for turkeys under 16 pounds in some representative cities: New York 75-85 cents a pound; Chicago and Denver about 69; Boston 73-75; Atlanta 67-69; with the average 78; Kansas City 73-83; Dallas 73-80 and San Francisco 64-89. The heavier toms were generally being quoted about 10 cents cheaper.

Most retailers had expected many housewives would balk at the prices. But food circles said that, judging from the volume of trade during the first two days this week, shoppers apparently were determined to have turkey regardless.

It has been estimated that there are about 8,000,000 bicycles in use on British roads.

FOR PEACE, WE MUST BE STRONG

A new and softer Russian attitude toward the West is being predicted by students of Soviet foreign policy. An NEA dispatch from Paris quotes these observers' opinion that there will be gestures to ease the tension in Europe so that the Kremlin may give its attention to the growing turmoil in Asia.

The first sign of the new attitude, says the dispatch, was the Russian press' exploitation of a rumor that President Truman might meet with Premier Stalin. This is the maneuver that Secretary of State Marshall labeled as propaganda designed to weaken the United States' position.

If more such maneuvers are coming up, what will our government do? Will it meet conciliation with added firmness? Will it give as much attention and money to the East as it has to Europe, if Russia's aid to Asian Communists is increased and extended? Will it dismiss all peace feelers as propaganda, or will it investigate them for any sincere desire of the Kremlin to back down?

These questions are delicate as well as important. Their answers will need all the inside information on Russian policy that can be assembled, plus a good deal of inevitable guessing and gambling.

Our policy first erred on the side of softness. Its forgivable mistake was assuming that the Russian leaders would be as reasonably honest, trustworthy and agreeable as they were when their nation's existence was in danger.

Then the American attitude changed to one of strength. And it has grown stronger. We have backed attitude with action, launched the Marshall Plan, thwarted the Berlin blockade, and very nearly stopped the advance of Russian aggression in Europe since the fall of Czechoslovakia.

The purpose of this firm policy is to build and maintain a free world strong enough to discourage the bloody, grandiose project of world revolution.

The United States does not want or intend to start a fight with the bullying Russian government. But it must convince that government that the American people are strong enough to lick it.

Some day the Kremlin will have to admit the facts that our policy of firmness is making clear. It will have to admit that further aggression and interference can only end in war, and that war can only end in the defeat of Russia and the destruction of its Communist government.

That admission will undoubtedly be accompanied by a lot of plots or pugnacious face-saving. The Kremlin's willingness to back down will be hard to recognize. Only when our government is sure that it has the upper hand can it commence negotiations to replace the present hostility of the cold war with some less explosive form of international relations.

But before any such negotiations are begun we must be convinced that we have no vulnerable spots, no potential Pearl Harbors. For the sober fact is that, so long as communism rules Russia, we may never assume that the hope and plan of world communism have been abandoned. We may never trust the present Russian leadership as we would a normally responsible government. That is not a pleasant prospect. But unpleasant realism is far better than disastrous delusions.

BERLIN STRATEGY

Into the dispute over why British and American troops did not take Berlin at the end of the war, instead of Russian troops, General Dwight Eisenhower has tossed a new answer. In his book, "Crusade in Europe", Eisenhower says that he, as supreme commander, ordered the Anglo-American forces not to go to Berlin and that he did so for purely strategic reasons.

It has been said that the heads of state of the Allied governments agreed at Yalta that Russian troops should be allowed to take Berlin. This was denied by the late Harry

THANKSGIVING 1948

Let us turn away from our private and public grievances, our little tempers and unrequited hopes and give thanks on this day to the God of our fathers that He has permitted us to live in this free land where each individual human being forms the pattern of his life, by his own will and conscience, unencumbered by government, unfettered by power.

In a world which is returning to human bondage, to the master and slave, the ruler and the ruled, the controlled and the bound, this island of liberty is a sanctuary for those who nurture human freedom and who recognize that the grace of God manifests them, so that they may enjoy the dignity of personality, the essence of human existence, which is to live within the margins of moral law, to know right from wrong, and to do right, not because of fear of the law, but because of love of God.

Differing from those daring folk who crossed an unkindly sea to find upon our coast an unwilling harbor, we, of this generation, have in no small measure lost our way. We suffer the sin of prideful omniscience, assuming that because we have created instruments that search and measure the universe, even to the composition of the atom, we possess all knowledge and therefore no longer require moral guidance.

We gaze upon ourselves in awe and no longer look toward Heaven to see Him of whom we are but an image. We have come so to believe in man that we defy him and often defy ourselves in our own minds. We glorify the image, not the creator. We speak of men thrown up by the fortunes of poverty or politics, of distress or war or revolution as though they were Gods in their day, man-gods to be adulated while they live, and commemorated after they die.

Yet the sum total of their lives is as nothing compared with the awe-inspiring greatness of man's achievements upon this earth. Who brought to us the use of fire that we may cease to be craven and fearful savages? Who conceived the greatest of all human institutions, the family? Who taught man the deep love of charity, of pity, of compassion, of neighborliness? Who gave man the wheel, the sharp-edged tools, the capacity to create a home, to paint a picture, to make music, to think in terms of universal law? Who gave man speech, even a Tower of Babel of languages; nevertheless, speech that conveys not only wants and needs, but ideas and thoughts and prayers?

It is in this spirit of humility for all that has come before us that on this day of Thanksgiving we turn to God in deep gratitude that we have not deserted the ways of our fathers; but struggling ever against confusion and false ideas and the lure of material things, we have remained true to the one concept that brought us into existence, the concept of liberty of thought, of speech, of conscience that makes America different from the world about us, which is moving back into the beastliness of a controlled existence. Our strength lies in that we recognize our liberties not as a gift of the government; not as a charter from the state; not as a compromise between the ruler and the ruled—but as a gift from God, as the inalienable right of the individual human being, his by divine right, not of man's laws.

This is the essential philosophy of American life. As we depart from it, we depart from that spiritual America which for more than three centuries has been the sanctuary for the oppressed, the weary, the heavy-laden. As we substitute such concepts as "the general welfare" for the nobler moral law to guide the individual to responsibility and obligation, we approach closer to that socialization that always ends in human slavery.

And so, God of our fathers, we give thanks on this day that we have preserved our traditions, our institutions, our beliefs and our liberties. Give us the wisdom and strength never to betray or desert them.

That Body of Yours

TREATING SEVERE ASTHMA

For years we have known of the pneumothorax treatment for tuberculosis of the lungs. Because the affected lung must be rested as much as possible to enable it to heal, air is pumped into the sack in which the lungs rest and this air holds the lung in a quiet state. This pleural sack, as it is called, is filled from time to time with air.

In recent years, to raise up the diaphragm, the floor of the chest, and so rest the tubercular lung or lungs, air has been pumped into the abdominal cavity, with good results. This is called pneumoperitoneum.

It has been found that in patients suffering from attacks of asthma, this diaphragm does not go up against the lungs as snugly as it should because the pressure in the chest is greater than the atmospheric pressure. Accordingly, as reported in the "Canadian Medical Association Journal," Drs. Jack H. Rubin and George D. Gass, Montreal, decided to use this pneumoperitoneum method in a case of asthma where all the usual methods of treatment had failed to cure the patient. For a couple of years the patient frequently had been admitted to the hospital, several times as an emergency case. None of the drugs usually successful—adrenalin, benadryl, aminophylline—gave effective relief, so pneumoperitoneum was tried as a last resort.

An X-ray of the chest showed that the diaphragm was flat instead of concave, pressing up against the lungs. One thousand cubic centimeters of air, about a quart, then was pumped into the abdominal cavity. Immediately following the injection of this amount of air, the patient found that she could control the fit of coughing, which usually occurred when she lay down. She also, she was able to breathe freely without having to sit up.

She developed severe pain in the shoulders and fever which lasted several days. A week later she was given another 1,000 c.c. of air. She again had shoulder pain but it was less severe. Her asthmatic state had quieted down and her cough was much less severe. Since the first two injections she has received injections of 700 c.c. weekly, and has had no further attacks of asthma. Drs. Rubin and Gass will continue to keep air in the abdomen for at least a year.

Asthma, Causes and Treatment

The cause or causes of asthma were unknown until recently. Now that it is known that allergy, nose and throat defects, emotional disturbances can cause the attacks, most asthmatics can be helped. Send today for Dr. Barton's handy booklet entitled "Asthma, Causes and Treatment," enclosing 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc., c/o Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

L. Hopkins in his papers; he said the Western armies ran beyond their supplies lines and so had to stop short of Berlin. Now Eisenhower says that Winston Churchill, then prime minister of Great Britain, made a strong effort at the time to have Anglo-American forces take Berlin, but that Eisenhower vetoed the idea because it did not fit into the military plan for overrunning Germany and smashing the German armies.

There may be still other explanations to be advanced for the way the war ended. Future historians may have a difficult time untangling them.

For Enough to Share—Let Us Be Grateful

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington—The Berlin grapevine reports that last week Kurt Fischer, head of the German police in the Russian zone, called a highly secret meeting of his top Communist aides to give orders as to what the Russians expected.

Fischer said that the Kremlin had assigned two main tasks to the German Communists:

1. Keep the Communist party in power in eastern Germany and prevent democratic uprisings of riots.
 2. Prepare for the day when the Allies pull out of Germany, and permit Communist-trained German police to seize complete control of the entire country.

Fischer also informed his colleagues that the Russians had instructed him to build the German police force up to 400,000 men.

Congressional Names

Pun-makers will have some old and some new names to conjure with next January when the roll is called in the new House of Representatives.

The Republicans lost a Fido in New Jersey. . . . Democrats Rains (Alabama) and Brooks (Louisiana) and Dixiecat Rivers (South Carolina) will be joined by a Flood—Democratic newcomer from Pennsylvania. . . .

A Lea (California Democrat) retired, but there's still a Hill (Colorado Republican) and a Lane (Massachusetts Democrat). . . .

A Bishop and a Church (Illinois Republicans) and a Priest (Pennsylvania Democrat) also were re-elected. . . . And though the House lost a Harness (Indiana Republican), it kept a Stockman (Oregon Republican) and gained a Steed (Oklahoma Democrat). . . .

There will be two Browns (Oregon and Georgia), two Whites (Idaho and California), one Green (Pennsylvania) and a Golden (Kentucky) in the new Congress. . . .

As might be expected, however, the Smiths will dominate the new Congress. There are four Congressmen by that name—one each from Kansas, Ohio, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Forrestal's Warning

If James V. Forrestal is still Secretary of National Defense next January, Democratic senators plan to give him an even more intense going over than the Republicans regarding bickering between the Navy and Air Force. They point out that Congress specifically passed the unification bill to prevent this bickering and that Forrestal, former Secretary of the Navy, was made the boss of both. Yet now he can't control the admirals who lobbied to put him in the top defense job.

Two secret military conferences at Key West and Newport, R. I., have been held to prevent this bickering and to decide the all-important question of whether Navy planes or Air Force planes shall lead the air assault in case of war. Nevertheless, the old feud was reopened recently before a secret session of Ferdinand Eberstadt's committee, set up by Herbert Hoover to study military reorganization.

Eberstadt, who was maneuvering to be Dewey's Secretary of Defense, let Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Air John Nicholas Brown give a long argument on why Navy planes, not Army planes, should head the next war offense—even though this was twice decided before at Key West and Newport.

"We have been asked by your chairman to discuss whether the Air Force should absorb naval aviation," began Mr. Brown in the secret hearings. "This was an unusual remark since no one ever made such a recommendation." Eberstadt, a close friend of Forrestal's and a great Navy fan, knew better. Nevertheless he listened eagerly as Brown continued to tell why the Navy was more important than the Air Force.

"In outlining its view on this matter," he said, "the Navy wishes to make it clear that it dislikes being placed in the position of making individual comparisons with a sister service. . . . The desire for some cheap and rapid way to bring an enemy to submission is old, but always fresh because it is so appealing. Certainly I do not think we should exclude the possibility of it. Neither should it be forgotten that there are senior officers of all services who doubt its feasibility. They doubt that bombers can range over thousands of miles of defended Soviet territory to destroy targets of which the exact location is not known."

"Fast ocean distances must be made safe, and surmounted, and footholds won on the far shores."

Note—When Secretary for Air Symington fired a letter to Eberstadt, protesting against the Navy's testimony, his letter leaked out to the press. Angriously, Secretary Forrestal announced that he would investigate the leak. But, after checking code numbers of the letter and tracking down who had handled it, the leak was narrowed down to only one possible source: The Navy itself.

(Copyright, 1948, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

The enemy's air forces must be met and diminished over the seas and adjacent shores before that is possible. That is, naval warfare, of which the principal striking weapon is naval aviation."

Air Admiral Explains
 Brown then introduced Vice Adm. A. W. Radford, vice chief of Naval Operations, who has long spearheaded Navy propaganda that the airplane carrier is the best means of dropping the atomic bomb.

"Members of the Air Force of the United States," said Radford, "argue that we can win a Russian war by using completely by the application of a single military force—long-range bombing by atomic weapons. An examination of the geography, matched against known technical limitations of present-day aircraft, leads to something more than a reasonable doubt of our abilities to carry out such a program."

"We agree with Air Force spokesmen that sustained bombing of targets in Russia could be carried out only from bases on the perimeter of Europe and Asia. This requires a battle for bases, which must be seized or occupied and secured before mass bombing can be launched."

Radford then gave the Navy's plan for carrying out the enemy: "Naval air power is essential to meet known enemy capabilities of today and tomorrow. Its mobile carriers, attack the points of origin of enemy long-range bombers; those same aircraft can strike enemy submarine pens, building yards and operating bases."

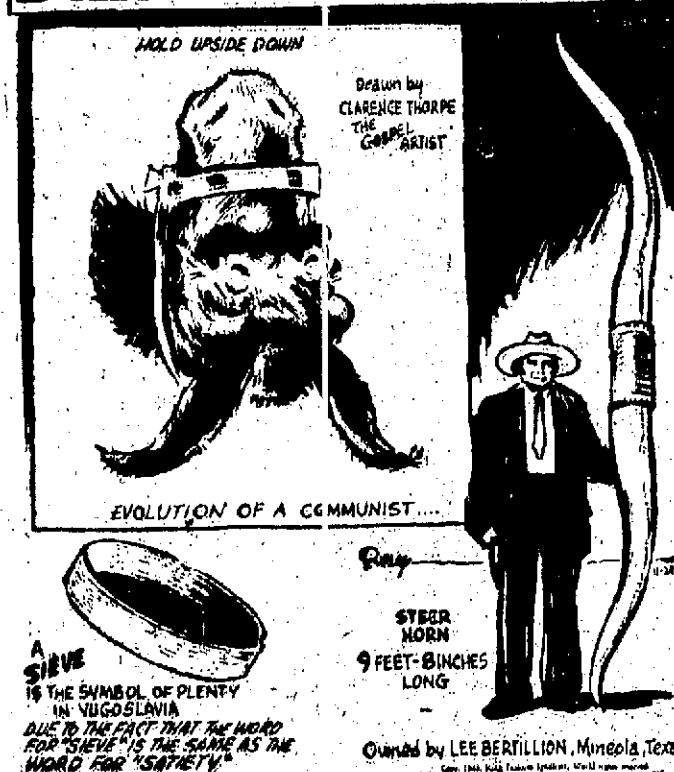

"There is nothing small about a fast carrier task group," Radford declared. "It is difficult to visualize, even to imagine the size of such a group."

Associated Press Story on Election 'If Has Special Meaning This Year

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 24—There's a saying that "a mile is as good as a mile." It applies particularly to the interesting fact just brought out by the latest Associated Press figures showing that if 35,300 persons out of approximately 47,000,000 had changed their votes Dewey would have been elected.

Such a calculation has been made after nearly every presidential election but this year it has a special meaning. It renders absurd much of the thoughtless comment that has been heard since the election about how intentionally "misleading" were the polls of forecasters.

Too many people have never taken the time or trouble to examine the electoral system by which presidents are chosen. They would have been willing to forget the errors in all the polls and forecasts this year if the electoral vote had resulted in a victory for Dewey. Yet the same margin of error in many states was made in previous elections by the Gallup Poll, for instance, but this was overlooked because the over-all poll happened to pick the winner.

If, as has been proposed again and again, the election of a president were to be by popular vote there never would have been such despair among the Democratic Party managers—they exhibited privately during the campaign this year, and there never would have been the overconfidence which the Republicans manifested.

All through the campaign, the newspapers generally reported the truth as they saw it—the closeness of the popular vote. Again and again it was pointed out by forecasters and even pollsters—by none other than Dr. Gallup himself—that the popular vote would be close. The popular impression today is that Roosevelt won his election easily. Yet, in 1940 and 1944, the popular vote was so close it could easily have resulted in a victory for the Republican nominee if just a small number of votes had changed in a few states.

The importance of the popular vote has somehow been minimized and the electoral-vote result overemphasized.

The newspapers are not political organizations, nor are they betting guides on everything from horse races to football games. They express their own views in editorial pages, to be sure, but in the news pages they report the speeches and the happenings of the campaign. The newspapers cannot make a checkup of voters by precincts during campaigns. This is the business of the political parties. To say that their political reporters should have done a different reporting job in each state is to imply that they did not exercise their best judgment. When the reporters couldn't change was the evidence available to them. Even many of the Democrats now elected to Congress could not see victory for themselves in their own districts, even as late as the day before election.

If the 1948 election brings about a wider education of the public on the difference between popular vote and electoral vote, it will be of tremendous value for the future. As long as the electoral system permits a majority of a single vote of a citizen in the state of New York, for example, to cast 47 electoral votes out of 269 necessary to elect, the forecasting of any election in which the popular division is close can be a surprise. This has been said thousands of times and written many times, including this summer and autumn, but somehow it seems to be still unknown to millions of otherwise well-informed persons.

How many people today know the answer to this question: Has a majority of the popular vote failed to elect a president and how many times did the candidate who polled a minority of the popular vote still become a majority of the electoral votes just the same and become president?

Answer: Yes, three times—1876, 1888 and 1916.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Now that it is all over, I wish Mr. Truman would tell me where he saw those 75-cent lamb chops that he talked so much about.

"For a long time, fair to good lamb chops have been steady to brisk at $2 a unit in the humble inn where room-service mothers in modest wants and we seldom speak of steak because even a single sheet of scum-bull-muscle of a size and texture suitable for black-eye therapy is $3.50. The regular steaks are practically out of print because they start at $4 for the minute version, which is not a measure of time but an old French proverb meaning: 'How did you find the steak?' Oh, I found it under one of the peas."

Beyond that, steaks go into the metaphysical realm of the noncommittal maybe. It is not a subject for the waiters, but one for agents and negotiation.

If you are really serious, the thing to do is go to a licentious broker and get him to scuffle around and bring in a set of offerings. Even the Stork Club doesn't carry steak as an article of trade these days and you will understand what that means when you remember that the stork has been practically the inner sanctum of the State Department, the F.B.I., the Supreme Court, the White House for 16 years.

The menu doesn't invite your interest in steak. It snarls: "Broiled filet mignon, Baltimore, $5.00." Filet mignon means steak, but I understand the Baltimore effect is just for prestige with people who have never held a fork. It is a Baltimore effect, when Henry Mencken was in fauntleroy and taking violin lessons. There is no such thing as a Baltimore steak, but it might as well read "filet mignon, Chester, Pa."

This is the money he gets for mock-work, loafing, some classes of partial-to-total time and artificial overtime. Artificial overtime is the double-time or Saturdays which the government helps the unions to collect for men who insist on working Saturdays but never show up on Mondays. They get one day's pay free and there are millions of them in on this. For that day's pay they produce no apartments, no automobiles or anything else.

Mock-work is various, but the hamburger who gets $20 a day as an ollar on a little engine running a pump or a hoist which needs only a dab of grease in the cups once a month is a good example. He puts in his time gnawing hamburgers and he is usually

Ex-Mental Patient Held for Murder Of 2-Year-Old Boy

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—William Norris Pollard, 26-year-old former mental patient, was held in jail today pending removal to St. Louis where he is wanted on a charge of murdering a two-year-old boy last week.

The F.B.I. said Pollard, seized yesterday in Red Cross headquarters, had orally admitted fatally beating the boy and stuffing his body in a drawer in the American Hotel in St. Louis. The child's battered body was found last Saturday, three days after Pollard had checked out of the hotel.

The boy was Joseph Nichols, Jr., son of a friend of Pollard's. They had met when both were patients in a veterans hospital in Chillicothe, O.

Pollard was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker shortly after his seizure on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

"Guilty, sir, and I'll waive extradition," Pollard said. The case, however, was continued to December 3 pending receipt of a copy of the original warrant. His bond was set at $10,000.

A coroner's jury in St. Louis on Monday decided that the Nichols baby died of internal hemorrhage caused by a sex attack by Pollard. George B. McSwain, Chicago F.B.I. chief, said Pollard in orally admitting fatally beating the child, made no mention of a sex attack.

McSwain said Pollard told this story: He had gone to the Nichols home in Huntington, W. Va., and volunteered to care for the boy so Nichols' wife, Betty, could visit her husband in Chillicothe on Armistice Day. He told Mrs. Nichols he would take the boy to his parents' home in Cincinnati.

Had Child on Trip

However, Pollard took the child on a hitch-hiking trip to several cities and arrived at St. Louis November 16. He registered at the American Hotel. He said he slapped the baby to stop him from crying but when he continued crying he threw him on the floor and beat him on the stomach and body with his fists. The following morning Pollard left the hotel and left a "do not disturb sign" on the door of his room. He told hotel clerks the child was ill and should not be disturbed.

McSwain said Pollard was unable to account for his activities since he left St. Louis. He was arrested when he walked into the Red Cross office and asked a worker to wire his aunt for money. He offered no resistance.

Episcopal Radio Series on Friday

How to make a dour Scotch husband laugh at himself as well as at life is the delightful lesson Sir James Barrie teaches in his famous dramatic comedy, "What Every Woman Knows," which will be heard over station WKNY Friday evening from 8 to 8:30. This is the ninth radio drama in the series "Great Scenes from Great Plays" sponsored by the Protestant Episcopal families in Kingston with the cooperation of the Episcopal Actors Guild.

Miss Gertrude Lawrence, saucy, insouciant, delightful star of the Broadway stage and Hollywood screen, plays the part of Maggie Wylie, the winsome lass of Galashiels, Scotland, who captures John Shand, an irascible, opinionated, selfish and self-centered home town boy who through main strength and awkwardness wins a local election for British Parliament. How Maggie first wins, then holds, her man despite the bluntness and glitter of the London social whirl forms the basis of the narrative. Her astute cleverness in outmaneuvering and out-witting Lady Sibyl is excellent comedy.

"What Every Woman Knows" represents a distinct change of pace in the Episcopal series of radio dramas because, instead of pointing a moral concerning one of the great Christian virtues, the play merely says that if a husband and wife have the same sense of humor, if they can laugh at the same things—yes, even including themselves, then there should be no need for divorce. To say that the sanctity of the home depends on a sense of humor may be stretching a point, but Sir James Barrie's thesis contains just as many lessons for married couples today as when it was written nearly half a century ago.

National C. of C. President Calls for Tax Law Overhaul

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Earl O. Shreve, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, called today for an "overhaul" of the country's tax laws.

In a speech prepared for an Albany Chamber of Commerce meeting, Shreve said that the present tax structure "discourages risk-taking through equity financing." "The future of the world—certainly the western democracies—depends upon the progress of the American Enterprise System," Shreve declared. He added:

"To make America strong for the task, for the good of the American people, for the safety of the west, the country needs a thorough study and overhaul of its tax laws."

He recommended the following tax changes:

1. An end to what he called a double tax on dividends.
2. A limit on income taxes to a maximum of 50 per cent of income.
3. Revision of the capital gains tax, "which operates as a capital levy during an inflationary period."

Landlords Plan . . .

Industry unless Congress recognizes these economic truths," Joseph D. McGoldrick, chairman of the rent board which refused to recommend the 15 per cent increase in rents, said last night.

"I'm perfectly willing to have Congress or any other properly constituted body investigate the board. We gave the landlords a fair hearing, and they didn't prove their case under the law." The state of New York took a step in the rent controversy here yesterday.

D. Mallory Stephens, chairman of the temporary state commission to study rents, asked Mayor William O'Dwyer for information on the city rent commission and on the inquiry into its affairs being conducted by city investigation Commissioner John M. Murtugh.

In a letter to the mayor, Stephens noted that the state commission is studying the effectiveness of laws enacted to combat "an acute shortage of residential and commercial accommodations, and the possible need for amending the laws."

Stephens asked the mayor for summaries of evidence and arguments upon which the city rent commission first granted and later rescinded tentative permission for 230 hotels to bill permanent guests for increased rents.

Stephens also requested a summary of the facts upon which the mayor "proceeded to make an inquiry into the city rent commission's action."

speculative possibility at the moment.

These factors, as well as the impact of a Red victory in China on the whole anti-Communist struggle, are believed to be before Mr. Truman and Marshall as they cope with the problem of developing their China policy to deal with present crises.

Vital Ground Lost

Nanking, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government continued to win the battle of Suchow on the Yangtze, but neutral sources believed it was steadily losing vital ground to hard-pressed Communist troops.

Not even the "pro-government" newspaper reports agreed on what was happening. It was certain only that major fighting raged on the plains commanding the approach to Nanking. China's capital, less than 200 miles south of Suchow.

The weather, a key factor, turned against the Suchow defenders, increasing cloudiness hampered air support such as helped Nationalist ground troops blunt the Communists' opening offensive last week.

(Shanghai, 165 miles southeast of Nanking, bowed its worry. Chinese officials discussed "total" retreats. British authorities set up three safety zones for their women and children. U. S. Army planes evacuated American school children from Kuling. China's summer capital 460 miles west of Shanghai. Other aircraft evacuated 20 Americans from Hankow, 585 miles west.)

The main fighting appeared to have erupted on the eastern flank of the Suchow battle. Neutral observers doubted government reports of successes in this area.

One Shanghai newspaper said the Communist encirclement of Nienchiang, 35 miles east of Suchow, had been broken. Another said the Nationalist garrison had withdrawn to the northwest after undergoing night-long bombardment by Red artillery.

(The Communist radio, heard in San Francisco by the Associated Press, declared yesterday Red forces had completely destroyed Nationalist Gen. Huang Po-Tao's Seventh Army group at Nienchiang.)

Postmasters Elect Henry as President

Robert Henry of Port Ewen was chosen president of the Ulster County Postmasters' Association at the election of officers held during the November meeting.

Two guests speakers, discussed handling of the heavy holiday mails and plans for highway post offices. There was a social with refreshments.

Other officers who will serve with President Henry for the ensuing year are:

Lions Club undertake the project of furnishing this first floor.

Mayor Newkirk then discussed in detail the specific items needed and displayed catalogues of the suggested items. He declared that the Recreation Center would be re-opened on December first and urged the Lions Club, to assist in completing the first part of the project.

After a general discussion, the club voted unanimously to make available $1,500 for immediate purchases. Commenting on the club's action, President Frank Mantocci briefly reviewed the project and recited the events which have brought to realization one of the projects undertaken to benefit the boys and girls of Kingston.

Reports of the sick, finance and Christmas party committees were also heard. Since the meeting was devoted to club members, no speaker appeared on the program. It was announced that the Hon. Thomas Ryan, state director of safety, would be the speaker at the meeting to be held on Tuesday, November 30. The program will be in charge of Peter Keresman. Local police, fire and health officials will be guests of the club at this luncheon.

most, three hours today with other neutral members of the council.

After the meeting, an Argentine source said Bramuglia intended to put further questions to the big power officials at a series of informal conferences. There will not be a supplemental questionnaire, the source said.

Despite the neutrals' vigorous new approach to the Berlin dispute, western sources predicted gloomily that this latest effort would collapse.

A French official said east-west tension in Berlin probably would continue to mount for the next two weeks. He said municipal elections scheduled in the western sectors for December 5, probably would make things worse than they are now.

Communists are boycotting the Berlin elections and there is no voting scheduled in the Soviet sector of the city.

It appeared to be a general western viewpoint that the currency problem cannot be separated from the general political situation in Berlin. If the political situation there deteriorates, western spokesmen said, any currency agreement reached in Paris might be impossible to administer.

British spokesmen said the western replies were concerned mostly with principles of currency control, since Bramuglia's questions were along that line.

Argentine sources said the neutral council members planned to refer the western and Soviet answers to their own financial experts for advice and then draft recommendations on currency control to be inserted into their general suggestions on Berlin.

In another striking example of Kingston's standing in the state and nation are the figures on family income and per capita income. In these categories, Kingston ranks third and fourth in income per capita and income per family respectively, as compared with other cities in the state of much larger population.

With $1,820 per capita, Kingston was one dollar away from second place, which went to Watertown with $1,821. Jamestown captured first place with $1,938.

In the income per family group, Kingston ranked fourth with $6,025. The first three cities were in this order: White Plains, $6,353; Jamestown, $6,221; Watertown, $6,199.

Christmas Buying

Montgomery Store beginning Friday, Cy said.

Oscar B. London said the first noticeable Christmas shopping, at London's Youth Center and Junior Bazaar began about a week ago.

Tommy Maines, Broadway sporting goods and toy dealer, reported an increase in early shopping over last year. Items geared to the present Atomic Age have proved especially popular in the toy line this year, he said.

At the close of business Tuesday, the Kingston Trust Company reported a substantial number of Christmas Club checks had been cashed on that day, which was the first day on which these checks could be cashed.

Major Helena Clearwater, chairman of the Kingston Christmas Cheer Committee, reported an encouraging early response to the annual appeal, but added that the committee, this year has undertaken to supply Christmas cheer for 80 families, each averaging five or six children.

To help obtain this goal, she said, the committee will revive the practice of soliciting used but good toys and warm clothing. Details of collection and distribution will be announced. Donations of money may be sent to the committee treasurer, Mrs. George D. Logan, 68 Garden street.

Returns on the annual Christmas Seal Sale began coming in to the office of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association as early as Monday morning, Miss Katherine M. Murphy, R.N., executive secretary, announced, and Miss Helen M. Smith, office secretary, has been kept busy opening and registering the returns.

Evening hours will be observed by most stores in the city beginning Friday, December 17, and continuing until Thursday, December 23, inclusive. The stores will close at 5 p. m. Christmas Eve.

Milk Price Is Forecast

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—A uniform price to dairymen of $5.60 per hundredweight (about 47 quarts) for November deliveries to pool-approved plants in the six-state New York milkshed was forecast today by C. W. Hanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area. He estimated also that the producer butterfat differential for November would be 5.4 cents each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard. Hanford said the forecast was based on a production estimate of 353 million pounds for the month. This would mean an average daily output of 260 pounds by each of the estimated 45,200 producers in the milkshed.

Army Is Picking Draftees Carefully

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—The army apparently is picking and choosing its draftees more carefully than during the war, a Selective Service official said today.

Of 44,000 men examined since early November in 43 states, he said 32,000 have been rejected according to incomplete figures from local boards.

This 70 per cent rate, roughly double the wartime rejection rate of 35.8 per cent, may be due to stricter physical standards set by army doctors, the draft official said.

Most of the men being examined are in the 24 and 25-year-old groups, though some boards are down to their 23-year-olds and a few to the 22s. So probably most of these men were looked over and turned down for physical reasons during the war, he said.

Draft officials have estimated that only 70,000 men in the 22-25 age group would be eligible for compulsory military service because of exemptions for marital status, previous service, and other reasons.

The army plans to induct 15,000 men in December and 20,000 men in January. This month 10,000 men have been called up.

The army is planning to get most of its draftees from those registrants under 22. Preliminary estimates in the three bottom age groups show more than 200,000 21-year-olds; about 500,000 20-year-olds; and some 600,000 19-year-olds. About 1,000,000 come of draft age each year.

When the training camps get into full swing the army expects to raise its draft calls to 30,000 monthly, thus adding 360,000 new men each year.

If you add a few drops of olive oil to water, when washing chamois leather gloves, they will not become hard or stiff.

The New Governors

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 24 (AP)—Fuller Warren has aimed at the governorship of Florida for 30 of his 43 years. He will reach his goal with inauguration January 4.

The Jacksonville lawyer with a gift for keeping himself before the public started his long political pull by winning a seat in the State Legislature a few months after he reached voting age and while still a student at University of Florida.

From then on, he didn't stop running until he was elected to succeed Millard F. Caldwell, who is barred by the state constitution from serving two consecutive terms as governor.

Warren's Democratic nomination last May assured him of the governorship, but while awaiting the formality of election over a Republican opponent he plunged into a series of public hearings and studies on questions that will confront him.

He flew to California to seek information to help bring back prosperity to a sick Florida orange and grapefruit industry. He flew back home with a lot of economic data—and the promises of several movie leaders to come to an inaugural show he wants to be the biggest in history as a means of making people more aware of their government. Warren campaigned on a platform that included pledges to work for reduced costs of government, better conservation of natural resources and laws requiring fencing of livestock (which now may roam at large on highways).

His father, a school teacher, died when he was a child. His mother was a pioneer home demonstration agent.

His sister, Alma Warren, will be his official hostess. He has been twice divorced.

He made his first formal bid for the governorship in 1940, ran third. But kept on running.

He didn't let up even while serving as a naval gunnery officer on a merchant ship during the war. Every port he hit he looked up Florida boys and wrote back to Florida papers about what he was doing.

Junior Has Excuse

Franklin Lakes, N. J., Nov. 24 (AP)—Junior has a new excuse for staying home from school—the wells have run dry. The borough's elementary school will remain closed indefinitely, the board of education ruled, until drought conditions pass. Two wells supply the school.

THIS IS THE SEASON OF THANKSGIVING...

And there is much for which we can all be thankful in this great country of ours.

Certainly we are thankful for a bountiful harvest of grain and corn, for a high level of production and employment, for a standard of living that is the envy of the world.

Most of all, perhaps, we are grateful for our American heritage... freedom of opportunity, freedom of choice, freedom to think and worship according to our own beliefs.

We feel as a Chevrolet dealer it is an appropriate time to convey our sincere appreciation to the people of this community for their loyalty, patience and understanding.

For Despite Chevrolet's production of more cars and trucks during 1948 than any other manufacturer there is still a long "waiting list" for America's most-wanted cars and trucks.

Chevrolet is doing everything within its power to maintain and increase production. Meantime, we would like to express our thanks...

Thanks to Buyers and Prospective Buyers of New Chevrolets for your generous recognition of the honest value built into this first-choice car in the low-priced field. More people have bought Chevrolet cars and trucks, during the eighteen-year period from 1931 to date, than have bought the cars and trucks of any other manufacturer.

Thanks to Those Who Are Waiting for Orders to be Filled for your patience and understanding. You can be sure we are doing our best to treat all customers fairly... doing our best to speed the day when we can give you the good news, "Your waiting days are over!"

Thanks to Service Customers for the opportunity to keep your present cars in safe driving condition. We have tried to serve you well, and appreciate your patronage.

gest discriminatory prices under government control and if that smacks of Fascism I have expressed myself well. But discriminatory controls of wages in favor of certain groups are bound to inflict hardships on other bunches of people unless the same authority also compels the people getting extravagant wages to pay extravagant prices. It would be a wise criticism of the extortion of the building trades if their members had to pay six months' rent for five months' occupancy. They get six days' pay for five days on the job. It would be hard to say how much work they really do, but when you count out an hour a day at $2.50 or $3 an hour for travel to and from, 30 minutes of coffee-time, morning and afternoon, 10 minutes for whistle-jumping at close of day, you shorten the work-week one more day.

Your honest artisan really gets six days' pay for four days' work and even at that his production is retarded so much that you would be generous in stating that he delivers three days' work for six days' pay. The sheep in Montana has no way of needing into his price of lamb chops double time for the growing that his animals do on Saturdays. I concede that he must be doing well, for he is an arbitrary fellow who will quit sheeping in a minute when he suspects that he isn't. Moreover, like all the rest of the farmers, he is now a parasite with a vested interest and the price of chops includes a heavy subsidy paid by the same government which warned him that if he didn't re-elect Mr. T. he would be a historic figure.

A few years ago when alarms were rung that unions were growing too strong, the tariff always was, "too strong for what?"

When Mr. Truman says 75 cents is too much for a lamp chop, what does he mean too much? Too much for a man drawing $125 for four days work? Or too much for a city girl with a dependent child or mother on $40 a week? (Copyright, 1948, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

10th Holiday Fair Will Open Friday; Ends December 12

Woodstock, Nov. 24—As the day approaches for the opening of the 10th annual Holiday Fair of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, the scene at the Guild Center changes constantly as Mrs. Roland d'Albis, shop chairman, and her assistants make ready to attend to every last detail prior to the drawing of the curtain Friday, November 25, at 1:30 p. m.

Those who have patronized this annual event in the past know they can find unusual and attractive articles made by the craftsmen in Ulster county. Each year the variety grows so that now one may order their own tweeds which are sold to rival anything sent out of Scotland. We learn from those in charge that orders for these tweeds are being received from as far away as Hollywood, the latest coming from Mrs. Gary Cooper.

The looms in the new weaving shop, which is under the direction of the nationally known Floyd LaVigne, are in operation day and night to fill the constant flow of orders. Scarfs woven of pure spun silk and of it enough to draw through a ring as well as bags of tweed to match one's suit may be had.

Among the new items seen in the shop this year are hand woven tables of seasoned chestnut logs which are a fine accompaniment to the benches of the same construction made by Edward Allen. These tables have gained much popularity during the past several months. It is also learned that one of the potters will take orders for personalized tea sets with either one's own initials or the picture of one's cottage as decoration. Allan Gould, who has a fine reputation in the modern field, is one of the new consignors and will have a table specially designed by Gould in the center.

Opening Friday the Holiday Fair will continue at the Guild Center daily from 1:30 to 5:30 p. m. to December 12.

Craftsmen Open New Shop Today

Woodstock, Nov. 24—One of Woodstock's newest organizations is Crafts Cooperative which opened today in the shop adjoining The Nook. It will remain open daily to 5:30 p. m. until Christmas.

Edith Roberts Cook, Alice Fisher and Mary D. Smith, all well-known craftsmen, are directors of the cooperative. Mrs. Cook described the organization as comprising "a group of serious craftsmen" and stated that it was formed by "Craftsmen for the Craftsman." To finance the cooperative, it was learned that stock is being sold at $2 per share. Noncraftsmen purchasing this stock will have no voting power, but craftsmen who are stockholders will have an equal voice in the policy regardless of the number of shares held. Mrs. Cook said "our members' purpose is very high and very serious. There will be no educational work; nor any social activities in our organization, but rather we will devote our entire time to our craft."

The organization as now set up will charge consignors a 10 per cent fee to cover expenses. It is found that this percentage is not required, any surplus accruing will be voted upon and will be held for a working balance or paid as dividends to the stockholders. It is expected for the first year that the surplus if any, will be used for the purpose of enlarging the facilities of the cooperative.

Campaign Begins To Collect Gifts For Castle Point

Woodstock, Nov. 24—The American Legion Auxiliary has placed a large decorated basket in a window at Rileys and is hoping that it will be filled to overflowing with articles suitable for the Gift Shop at the Castle Point Veterans Hospital by Monday evening, November 29.

Each year, Auxiliary members and non-members in the community are asked to contribute to this campaign. Last year, because of the unusual generosity shown by all the Woodstock unit went away "over the top" in the money drive. The gifts are taken to the Castle Point Gift Shop where the hospitalized veterans select Christmas presents for their families.

Your reporter made a trip to the hospital last year at Christmas time and, having witnessed the pleasure given our veterans through this wonderful work, feels we cannot say enough about the worthiness of the campaign which is part of the rehabilitation program carried on by the Auxiliary. Those contributing are requested to attach appropriate wrappings and a card to their gift. The gifts should not be wrapped. It has been found that the boys in the hospital enjoy wrapping their own packages, but in order that they may have absolutely no expense, the wrappings should be attached.

In selecting articles for this project, the public should bear in mind that since the veterans will be mailed by the veterans to all parts of the country, nothing breakable should be given. Too, the articles should have a value of at least 50 cents.

It would be a wonderful thing if Woodstockers, who never fail in helping others, would work toward filling not only the basket but the window at Rileys before Monday evening. Anyone who would rather make a cash

Historical Group Studies Folk Lore

Woodstock, Nov. 24—Last Saturday Neva Shultis, chairman of Folk Lore, Ulster County Home Bureau, created such an illusion of witch hunting days in Woodstock and near by communities that members of the Woodstock Historical Society present at the home of Mrs. Walter McTeigue for the final meeting of the season, reported that they expected to see witches and Indians lurking behind trees as they made their way homeward.

Mrs. Shultis, who probably has the largest collection of interesting folklore in this area was the guest speaker on this occasion, but so intrigued were some of the members, particularly those whose families had lived in these parts for generations, that they too made contributions of anecdotes which had been passed on to them by the older folks.

George Neher, chairman of the group, particularly delighted their listeners with "spooky" stories.

The hostess, Mrs. McTeigue, surprised members and guests with a large cake appropriate for the occasion and decorated with "Woodstock, 1787-1948." Meetings of the organization will be suspended during the winter months but will resume in April.

Home Bureau Honors Leaders at Recent Affair

Woodstock, Nov. 24—The Woodstock unit of the Ulster County Home Bureau had a luncheon recently at the American Legion club house in honor of the leaders. Mrs. Joseph Holt, chairman of the group, presided, and Mrs. Helen Butttrick and Mrs. Albert Montgomery, chairmen of the bag project.

The table decorations were yellow with a cornucopia of fruit and flowers and a large cake on which was written "To Our Leaders." Following the luncheon, each of the leaders was presented with a gift from the members.

Attending were the Mmes. George Neher, Charles Duane, Besse Stowall, Pearl Shultis, Charles Watson, Victor Lasher, John Nichols, Margaret Braddon, Kathryn Van Ness, Harry Kutzschbach, Elizabeth Clough, John Peacock, Anne Metcalf, Joseph Wagner, William Huty, Warren Graver, and Miss Maude Shelton.

Library Dedication Scheduled Friday

Woodstock, Nov. 24—For many months now numerous committees have put forth arduous effort in planning, supervising and collecting funds for an addition to the Woodstock Library and alterations to the building. The culmination of the splendid job done will come Friday afternoon, November 26, when the public is invited to attend, open house at the library, at which time the new wing will be dedicated.

On this occasion, Dr. James T. Shotwell, United Nations member of the Security Council, noted his long, well-known in world affairs, and who for more than 30 years has been a resident of Woodstock, will be the principal speaker.

Well over 100 residents are serving on the various committees for this event. The festivities will begin at 4 p. m. and continue until 9 p. m.

Mrs. Hout Bags Deer; Fire Warden Gets Deer, Bear

Woodstock, Nov. 24—Mrs. Milton Hout is the proud possessor of a four-point buck, weighing 125 pounds, which she bagged Sunday afternoon while hunting with her husband.

Of particular note, too, is the buck and bear to the credit of Fire Warden Aaron Van de Bogart, Jr. Van de Bogart found his good hunting at Watson Hollow and it was learned that a derelict was necessary to remove the bear which weighed more than 300 pounds.

Woodstock Cagers Defeat Kingston

Woodstock, Nov. 24—The 1948-49 basketball season for Woodstock started off with a bang Friday when the Junior Varsity defeated Kingston 26-24 and the Varsity whipped another Kingston team 55-22.

At the half of the Junior Varsity game, Kingston was leading 14-10, but then lost its gain to Woodstock as the locals racked up 16 more points to win 26-24. Watrous was high scorer on the Woodstock team with 12 points, while Cullum, high scorer of Kingston, helped his team by giving them eight points. Sgroi was next for Kingston with seven points.

The Varsity game was a slaughter as the Woodstock team trounced over the Kingston team 55-22. A slippery floor gave both teams a hard time. The score at the half was Woodstock 22, Kingston 8. Woodstock tallied 23 more points to Kingston's 14, and paraded to victory. Wilson was high scorer for Woodstock and Kearney was high scorer for Kingston.

Minority Faction Fails to Seize Control of Group

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—A minority faction has failed for the second successive year to seize control of the New York State Teachers Association.

The association's 103rd annual convention ended last night with announcement that "regular" candidates, headed by Miss Helen C. McCormick of Albany, had defeated a slate topped by James A. Cullen of Mt. Vernon. The Cullen faction wore a "Liberal" label.

A constitutional revision that the minority, opposed as "too mild," was approved 568 to 231, and the delegates refused to adopt a resolution advocating full automatic increases up to $4,100 after 16 years of teaching experience.

Miss McCormick, who had been first vice-president of the 45,000-member organization, won over Cullen by 611 votes to 226. Alan H. Nicol of Buffalo, unopposed, for first vice-president, got 820 votes.

Other vice-presidents elected were Miss Dorothy E. Allen of Peckskill, second, 588 to 243 over Miss Mary E. Martin of Garden City; Miss Marjorie Blythe of Southampton, third, 605 to 223 over Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson of Syracuse, and Dr. Harvey M. Rice, president of Oswego State Teachers College, fourth, 620 to 214 over Allen Lockwood of Ft. Ann.

The constitutional revision makes it easier to introduce amendments to constitution and by-laws in the House of Delegates. The so-called "Liberals."

sparked by the State Teachers Advisory Council, had sought to have a separate organization for classroom teachers set up within the association and to have selection of standing committees taken out of the hands of the president.

After more than two hours of debate on the salary question, the delegates finally adopted by a voice vote a resolution urging automatic increases up to $3,500 after 12 years' experience, with merit raises thereafter.

The present state Albany law provides for automatic boosts up to $2,750 after six years, then merit raises.

Among other resolutions adopted was one urging the association's executive committee to confer with the State Department of Education about "a program to eliminate the lust and crime in comic books and magazines."

"The frightening and frightful effects of the menace of the comic books glorifying crime and sex are being widely recognized," the resolution stated.

Card Party Plans

For Esopus Legion

Plans for making the fourth annual card party of the Town of Esopus Post 1298, American Legion another outstanding event, were discussed at a meeting of the committee Monday night. The party will be held at Town Auditorium in Port Jervis, Tuesday evening, November 30.

Under the general chairmanship of Russell J. Maurer, vice commander, the committee discussed the various details for staging the event. The three previous card parties all proved most successful. The first one, staged three years ago at the Penguin, was the first social event sponsored by the post after its organization.

Playing will begin at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served at the termination of the games. The committees appointed by Commander John A. Henry follow: Cards and tables—Alfred Schoonmaker, Walter Simlich, Herman Swirsky, Earl O. Terwilliger, Leonard Avery, Vincent Aurlinger, James J. Prendergast, John Shultis, Joseph J. Scherer.

Reception and floor—Commander Henry, the Rev. Fred W. Stine, Henry Cameron, P. J. Watson, John T. Groves, George Swirsky, Roscoe V. Elsworth.

Miss Fitzsimmons

Wed to Ralph Sisco

At St. Joseph's Church

The wedding of Miss Catherine Fitzsimmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fitzsimmons, 153 Pine street, to Ralph Sisco, son of Mrs. Frances Marrelli, 120 Elmendorf street, took place Sunday at 1:30 p. m. in St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. John D. Simmons officiated.

Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist. Mrs. Peter Mancuso sang Mother Beloved and Praise Angelus. The church was decorated with white pompons.

Mr. Fitzsimmons escorted his daughter. Her ivory satin gown was made with deep shoulder effect, bustle back and hoop skirt. Her illusion veil was attached to a train of seed pearls and she carried a prayer book covered with gaudianus and stephanos.

Mrs. William Stall, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a dusty rose taffeta gown with matching hat and carried blue pompons. Miss Marie Marrelli, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Eunice Droulette as bridesmaids, wore green taffeta gowns with matching hats and carried yellow pompons.

Louis Marrelli was best man for his brother. Ushers were John Fitzsimmons, cousin of the bride, and Anthony Marrelli, brother of the bridegroom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Kirkland Hotel. The bride couple left for a wedding trip to Florida. For traveling she chose a royal blue dress with brown accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Sorosis Hears of Women

In Education as Topic

Sorosis met with Miss Lucinda Merritt, Emerson street, Monday afternoon, when Mrs. William Ochs presented the paper on "Famous Women in Education." She mentioned many famous women in the educational world who were associated with such schools as Vassar, Wellesley, Mount Holyoke, Emma Willard and Barnard. She spoke of Mary Lyon of Mount Holyoke, a pioneer in education for women who had previously served as head of Sander and Ipswich Academy. Mrs. Ochs summed up some of her tenets in advice for conversation, health and religion. Another leader mentioned was Martha Berry, of an aristocratic southern family who spent her life in "reclaiming young American womanhood and manhood." She taught her pupils how to work and sacrificed her whole life improving herself to further her ideas in education. She received aid from Andrew Carnegie and President Theodore Roosevelt and was awarded a distinguished service medal in 1925 by President Calvin Coolidge.

Following the meeting was served by the hostess with Mrs. A. W. Mollett assisting. The next meeting will be December 6 at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Herbert Darrow, Josephine avenue.

Lane-Christiana,
Kerhonkson Couple,
Married Saturday

Miss Rhoda Mae Christiana, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Christiana of Kerhonkson, was married to Richard Lane, son of Milton Lane of Kerhonkson, Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in the Kerhonkson Reformed Church. The Rev. Harry E. Christiana of Port Ewen officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with rust and yellow chrysanthemums. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin bridal gown made with net yoke. She carried white chrysanthemums.

Miss Phyllis Gallagher of Kerhonkson as maid of honor wore a yellow dotted swiss gown with yellow roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Mary Ellen Christiana, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a blue taffeta gown with yellow chrysanthemums in her hair and carried a bouquet of the same kind of flowers.

Percy Robert Greene of Kerhonkson was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Hornbeck and Robert Christiana, cousin of the bride.

A reception for 44 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Lane left for a wedding trip to New York. For traveling she chose a gold taffeta dress. Upon their return, they will make their home with the bride's parents until their new home is finished in Kerhonkson.

The bride is a graduate of Kerhonkson High School, class of 1946 and works in the office of Terwilliger Brothers. Mr. Lane is a graduate of Kerhonkson High School, served as a lieutenant in World War 2, and is employed by Western Electric.

20th Century Club Hears

Report on England

Twentieth Century Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Monell, Elmendorf street. The meeting was opened by Mrs. R. P. Baylor who read James Hilton's Thanksgiving Prayer.

Following the business meeting, a paper on England was given by Mrs. R. H. D. Boerker. She described the changing phases of England from a political point of view. She spoke of the British empire as unique in history. It was formerly noted for its wealth and its navy. After releasing its control of Pakistan, Ceylon and India, it still holds its far flung dominions by bonds of political, civil ideals and moral unity. It is the most dependable ally of the United States she said. Mrs. Boerker also described England's political program for defense and gave a report on the recent conference in London, a meeting of one-fourth the world's people, with varying political ideals but mostly democratic. She spoke of the British Commonwealth conference as a lesson to the world that the ties which bind it loosely are very strong.

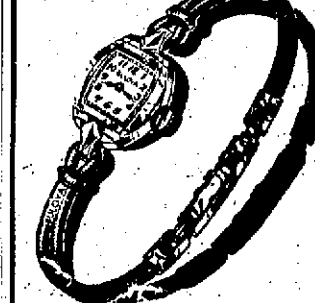

Mrs. R. H. Woodard, president, gave a report on the state convention. The Christmas meeting will be with Mrs. Baylor.

Luella Schlenker
Honored; Wedding
Thanksgiving Day

Miss Luella I. Schlenker, daughter of Postmaster and Mrs. Oscar Schlenker of West Camp, was guest of honor at a bridal shower Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Anita Potts, Cementon. Decorations were in the form of a rainbow with gifts placed in the "pot of gold." Guests were Mrs. Schlenker, Mrs. Daniel Wynne, Mrs. Ernest Tobiasen, Mrs. Roy Potts, Miss Rose Marie Stewart, Miss Ellen Wynne, Miss Jennie Burhans, and Miss Janice Beers. Miss Schlenker will become the bride of John Baker of Whitehall, a teacher in Saugerties High School, Thanksgiving Day. The wedding will take place in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, West Camp. She has chosen for her attendants, her sister, Mrs. Ernest Tobiasen as matron of honor, and Miss Esther Benn and Miss Anita Potts as bridesmaids.

A Holiday Hook-up

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Plotting ways to make a memorable entrance at holiday parties? Wear a ribbon-knit dress, which you can make yourself.

Art ribbon brightened by metallic thread can be hooked up rapidly to make a party dress, a blouse, a skirt or a high-styled accessory. Instructions for making a smart dress, such as the one Joan Crawford designed and modeled in its finished form (left) are available at no cost at art needle-work departments of stores and at knitting specialty shops.

All that's needed, besides directions, to make this smart party dress are 19 spools of art ribbon which offer a knitter the choice of 18 fashionable wardrobe colors.

Husband Is Passport-to $18,000,000

Her Berlin neighbors crowd around as Ursula Bauer and her bridegroom, Sgt. Paul Ongstad of Westport, Ore., prepare to enter a snow-white-bridal coach. The bride, claimant to the $18,000,000 Henrietta Garret estate in Philadelphia, Pa., has never been able to leave Germany to get the fortune. Now she can make the trip with her American husband. ## They Will Cooperate

Long Beach, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—A couple will be married to beat the band Friday night—70 bands. In fact, Virginia L. Stanton, Long Beach, and Donald M. Rush, Pueblo, Colo., planned their wedding in the First Baptist Church before they knew that 5,000 musicians would be marching past the church the same night in the Eighth Annual Western States Band Review. But all is well. Officials agreed not only to halt the parade long enough for the couple to slip through the rice from the church, but also to have 70 bands play Lohengrin's Wedding March for them.

Pitching Horseshoes
By Billy Rose

A few days ago I wrote a piece about blue pencils and blue noses, and one of the people who read it was Sam Grisman, the veteran showman. When I walked into Lindy's the other night, Sam motioned me over to his table and wigwagged a waiter to bring another jerrycan of java.

"There was noble sentiments you expressed," said Grisman, "but you left out one important argument against censorship—that it sometimes backfires right in der censor's face."

"It's a point that crossed my mind," I said, "but I was trying to keep the discussion on a high, intellectual plane."

"You could have grounded the plane for a couple of paragraphs," said Sam, "and mentioned a couple of foreign films which are double-featured around the country—a mish-mosh from France called 'Passionelle' and the great Swedish picture, 'Torment.' Just because the censors tried to put the squitch on the French flicker it rates top billing, while 'Torment,' a much better picture, gets a single line at the bottom of the ads—'On the same program.'"

"It works the same way in legit," I two-cented, "and Mae West and Eugene O'Neill will be glad to furnish examples."

"You don't have to bother Mae and Gene," said Grisman. "All you've got to do is ask me."

"Okay," I straight-manned. "I'm asking."

"Well," said Sam, "my favorite for instance is the play, I produced fifteen years ago, 'Tobacco Road.' Most of the New York critics gave it two weeks, but it ran seven and a half years because a few self-appointed censors opined that it was indecent."

"Did the cops ever try to close you up?" I asked.

"Not in New York," said Sam, "but we occasionally had trouble on the road. Especially in Utica. There, a finicky mayor put his size-elevens down and told us to peddle our turnips elsewhere."

"When informed of this, I hopped a train to Syracuse and got a New York State Supreme Court Judge to issue an injunction preventing the mayor from banning our show and, just to be on the safe side, I also got injunctions against the police, fire and building departments."

"When I got back to Utica late that evening, the final editions of the local papers were already on the stands and, since I had no way of getting word to the citizenry about the injunction, it looked as if there wouldn't be any customers. But when I got to the hotel where the troupe was stopping, I found the backfiring had already begun. The lobby was filled with high school kids who were all het up about censorship, civil liberties and so on, and all asking if there was anything they could do to help."

"I was about to shoe them away when I got a bright idea. I picked out ten kids, hired ten rooms, tore the Utica phone directory into ten equal sections, and told my new assistants to phone everybody the show was going on as per schedule."

"At the theatre, as I expected, a dozen cops barred my way and informed me the building was unsafe. I waved my injunctions, but I might as well have waved the Afghanistan flag—they smiled and said the building was still unsafe. Working fast, I located the smartest lawyer in town and told him my problem. He phoned the Supreme Court Judge and told him his authority was being flouted, and that the police department was acting in contempt of court."

"Tell your client to open on schedule," said His Honor, "and leave the rest to me."

"Well at 8 o'clock, almost half of Utica was in front of the theatre, and the high school kids were on soap boxes delivering orations on the evils of censorship. At 8:15, there was a screeching of sirens, and a squadron of State Troopers pulled up in front of the theatre and ordered the local cops back to their pinochle games. For a moment it looked like war between Utica and the State of New York, but after a quick conference, the local cops decided to call it a day."

"Of course, with that buildup we couldn't miss selling out, but we were still in the woods—our scenery was in the alley and the actors weren't made up. But we kept selling tickets, and when the house was full I made a little speech and asked the audience whether it would like to see how a stage set was put together."

"Well, the audience ate it up, and as the backwoods cabin was assembled before their eyes, they applauded as if they were watching a performance by the great Houdini himself. My stagehands were a tough bunch of hombes, but that night they handled the flats with a flourish and took bows after screwing in each screw."

"We finally got the play going at 10, and when the curtain dropped at 1, the audience hollered for five minutes. And next day, thanks to our pal, the censor-mayor, we got enough publicity in the papers to sell out in the next ten towns."

"That's a cute yarn," I said, "and a fine example of the way a boomerang works."

"Yes," said Sam, "and I guess it's the same in all art forms—a while back, you could rent a copy of Edmund Wilson's 'Memoirs of Hecat County' at any circulating library for two bits a week. Now that it's banned, the bookbagger is asking a buck a day."

Thanksgiving

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day,
Humbly, in our simple way,
For all the gracious gifts which Thou
Hast deigned so richly to endow —
For life — for every passing minute —
For this, Thy world, and all things in it!

We give Thee thanks, dear Lord, for these —
The green beneficence of trees,
The kindness of rain, the birth
Of springtime from a barren earth —
The earth that bears the bread we break
In gratitude for Thy sweet sake.

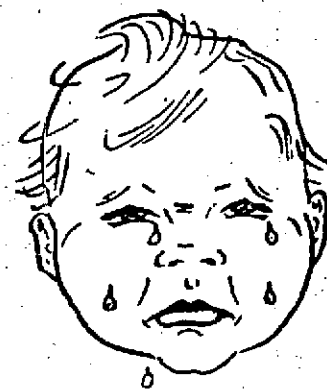

We thank Thee, Lord, for healing song,
For courage, wise and tall and strong;
For all the laughter and the tears
That mold the pattern of our years;
For truth and trust and constancy,
For faith that lets us lean on Thee!

We give Thee thanks for ears to hear,
For feet to tread Thy pathways here,
For hands to touch, and lips to sing
Thy name in every lovely thing —
For friendship with our fellow men —
But mostly for Thy love.

AMEN

He's America's 'Star Farmer'

Star Farmer of America was the title awarded Kenneth Cheatham, left, 19, of Greenville, Ill., at the Kansas City, Mo., convention of the Future Farmers of America. He's presented with a $1000 check by John M. Collins, editor of the weekly Kansas City Star, sponsor of the award.

Holiday Show At the Broadway

A diversified show featuring a Chinese singer from "Hollzappin", trained dogs, dancers, three pretty girl acrobats, and starring Frank Ross and Anita LaPierre, featured singers at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe, has been booked for Friday and Saturday, November 26 and 27, as the special Thanksgiving Week professional vaudeville show at The Broadway Theatre.

Ross, who is billed as the "One Man Juke Box", is a Rag-Tag type of comedian who wanders nonchalantly on stage, and bursts into an amazing series of vocal imitations of bands. Relying solely on his voice, and without the customary cupped hands or metal noise gadgets, he imitates Clyde McCoy, the Tommy Dorsey trombone, Harry James trumpet, and hallmarks of other well known musical imitations.

His partner, Anita LaPierre then joins him in an amusing group of songs, including French Chantress with English side remarks, and Hawaiian numbers. Their act is the same one that kept for three years at the noted Horseshoe.

One matinee and two evening shows will be presented in addition to screen attraction, "Return of Wildfire."

The Chinese comedian is Peter Chan, who was featured on Olson and Johnson's "Hollzappin", and who makes his stage entrance singing an incongruous Irish ballad.

Particularly for the youngsters will be the Gonzales Sisters and their trained dogs. After a brief dance number, the two Latin American girls bring out their dog troupe, and the dogs do a series of tricks ranging from masquerading in children's clothes, to jumping and somersaults on a trampoline.

The Three Rays are three pretty young girls, whose acrobatics are of the knockabout comic type. They start most of their balancing and tumbling numbers "straight"—then rapidly become involved in comic falls, pyramids that won't balance, and handstands that don't quite work.

Opening act for the show will be Grace and Mickey Carroll, two young dancers who made their Broadway debut in the long-running musical success "Song of Norway." They are billed as "Jitterbugs a la Carte."

General Moore to Take Command at West Point

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Bryant E. Moore will take command of the U. S. Military Academy February 1.

The army announced yesterday that Moore, chief of the army's public information division, will succeed Maj. Gen. Maxwell B. Taylor, superintendent since September, 1945.

Moore, 54, a native of Ellsworth, Me., is a West Point graduate. He has been in his present post since last July. He served in both the European and Pacific theatres in World War 2, and later was commanding general of U. S. occupation troops in Trieste.

The army will announce later the new assignment for Taylor, also a West Point graduate.

Students Are Suspended
Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 24 (AP)—Eight Massachusetts Institute of Technology students have drawn suspensions for a prank which, if successful, would have initiated Harvard Stadium with 15-foot-square "M.I.T." letters during the Harvard-Yale game. Police said the students planted wires with the intention of detonating a fuse to the letters buried in powder under the stadium turf.

Sandgren Gets Reasonable Doubt Certificate

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Bronx Supreme Justice Edward R. Koch yesterday granted a certificate of reasonable doubt in behalf of Svend O. Sandgren, convicted last June of second degree manslaughter in connection with the death in 1947 of 11-year-old Stanley Balaban after he had been attacked by six bull terriers owned by Sandgren. Sandgren has been in state prison serving a sentence of one to two years. As a result of the certificate of reasonable doubt, bail for his release pending appeal of the case to the Appellate Division is expected to be set soon.

Sandgren, a public school custodian, was convicted after the state presented evidence that the Balaban boy, who lived at 1404 Noble avenue, the Bronx, died after being attacked by Sandgren's dogs near the latter's boathouse on Pugsley's creek in to rear of the Castle Hill swimming pool. Sandgren was convicted under a section of the penal code dealing with mischievous animals. Argument on the application for the certificate of reasonable doubt was heard last week by Justice Koch.

Sandgren has spent six months in prison since his conviction. The appeal of the conviction is scheduled for hearing before the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court this month.

Kingston reserves—Ruzzo, Baker, Baltz, Ross and Maines. Cleveland—Hochstetler.

Sickler's Delivery meets the Cleveland Clowns in a professional basketball exhibition Thanksgiving night at the municipal auditorium.

Featured on the Cleveland roster is the famous Gil "Tiny" Reichert, the world's tallest basketballer at a mere 7 feet 8 inches. Reichert, a basketball gargantuan who has made periodic visits to Kingston, will start at center. Supporting him are five capable basketballers who play a rugged game while amusing the spectators with horseplay. They claim a 90-3 record for the 1947-48 campaign.

Ten-Player Squad
Sickler's ten-man squad will show Andy Murphy, Tony Albany, George Bloom, "Shitz" Houghtaling and Dan McGrane in the starting roles. Reserves are Jack Ruzzo, Jack Baker, Harold Baltz, Don Ross and Tommy Maines, the club manager.

A stand-out preliminary is carded at 7:45 p. m. between the undefeated Wiltwyck Motor quintet of the Y Autumn League and the powerful Hudson Black Taxis, one of the strongest independent clubs in the region.

Threatens Graziano With $50,000 Suit

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—Fight promoter Jimmy Murray threatened today to sue former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano for $50,000, charging breach of contract for "running out" on his December 1 fight here with Fred Apostoli.

Murray engaged Jerry Geisler, Los Angeles attorney, to file suit in New York, where the fight contract was signed.

The promoter began refunding money to the customers after conferring from Irving Cohen, one of Rocky's three managers, that the eastern fighter wasn't coming back west.

Penn-Cornell, Texas-Texas A.&M. Top Thanksgiving Day Contests

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Two games which mean little in the national picture but rate four stars and fireworks displays with the schools concerned tomorrow's skippy Thanksgiving Day grid program.

Pennsylvania and Cornell, two traditional eastern rivals, clash at Franklin Field in Philadelphia for the Ivy League championship and for sectional runner-up honors to Army.

The Texas Longhorns and Texas Aggies, once mighty co-powers of the Southern Conference but now fallen on slightly leaner days, will tie into one another at Memorial Stadium in Austin with a gusto undiminished by the years.

For a change, no bowl game scouts will attend the two tussles with rich contracts in their hip pockets. Penn and Cornell shun post-season activities. Neither of the Texas elevens is a likely candidate.

Longhorns Dangerous

The Longhorns still could tie Southern Methodist for the Southwest Conference crown if they beat the lowly Aggies, as expected, and S. M. U. loses to Texas Christian on Saturday. In that case, each would finish with a 5-1 conference record. But as S. M. U. beat Texas in its meeting, the Mustangs are "in" as host club in the Cotton Bowl.

Cornell goes into the Philadelphia classic with a 7-1 season record. Its only loss was to Army. Penn dropped decisions to Army and Penn State. Each boasts a clean 3-0 slate within the Ivy League.

A third Thanksgiving game of high sectional interest matches Kansas and Missouri on the latter's field at Columbia, with second place in the Big Seven Conference at stake. Each has a 4-1 loop.

Ulster Not Included In Special Season

Ulster county is not included among the ten counties in which a special six-day, buck and doe deer season opened today.

The counties are Allegheny, Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Erie, Genesee, Livingston, Niagara, Ontario, Steuben and Wyoming.

Fox in Hospital After Bad Beating

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Billy Fox, 22-year-old boxer from Philadelphia, was unconscious in a hospital early today after absorbing a terrific beating last night in Memorial Auditorium.

He apparently suffered a head injury, a physician said. The hospital said his condition was not critical.

After losing a 10-round split decision to Ted Lowry of New Bedford, Mass., Fox left the ring under his own power. In the dressing room, he suddenly complained of being ill and became unconscious.

Fox, whose impressive knockout record twice earned him title bouts with the then light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich, was not knocked down during the bruising battle, but received a heavy pounding for the most of the fight.

Lowry weighed 176½ and Fox 169½. They battled to a draw here last month.

Honor Pitt Tackle As Lineman of Week

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Nick Bolikovic, Pitt tackle who startled the football world with the touchdown run that upset Penn State, gained further honors today. He was named lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Bolikovic, a 210-pound sophomore from Youngstown, O., did himself proud against Penn State. That performance brought Bolikovic the most votes in the poll. He gained the top spot over the excellent play of Brad Ecklund, Oregon center; Dominic Tomasi, Michigan guard; Len Szafaryn, North Carolina tackle; and Gerald Weatherly, Rice center.

Clarifiers Rout Chez Emile, 51-29

W.G.B. Clarifiers blasted Chez Emile, 51-41; Sickler's Delivery crushed Potter Bros., 51-29, and Village Rest rolled over Fullers, 70-49, in last night's bracket of Y Autumn League basketball games.

Sickler's broke the game against Potter's wide open with a terrific second half offense while restricting the sporting goods representatives to nine points.

Village Rest was leading scorer with 21 points. Doyle dropped 17, Van Wagenen 19, while others in the double bracket included: Albany 13, Bloom 17, Ebelheiser 16, Mains 16, Kearney 15, Peck 15, Dunham 12, Koepfen 11.

Newark, N. J. — Pat Comiskey, 214, Paterson, N. J., stopped Bill Weinberg, 217½, New York, 7.

Best in the Business

Jack Mitchell is good enough to run from the tailback position, and southwest coaches and critics say Oklahoma's quarterback is the best college player in the country at making the split-T work.

Michigan First In AP Grid Poll

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Michigan rules the roost in college football for the third straight week by a comfortable margin in the next-to-last Associated Press poll of the 1948 season.

With 105 of 130 first place votes, the Wolverines polled 1,726 points for a lead of 103 over the idle runnerup, Notre Dame. Michigan finished its season Saturday by downing Ohio State, 13-3, while Notre Dame still has two more games to play.

There were few radical changes in the top 10 after a tumultuous week-end, the only startling drop being Penn State's tumble from sixth to 18th place.

Army again held third place, although the Cadets were idle awaiting Saturday's finale with Navy, but North Carolina moved into fourth place displacing California by a 20-0 decision over Duke. The Michigan-Notre Dame-Army-California lineup had held true for two straight weeks.

Bears Fifth

The California Bears, named the western Rose Bowl team against twice-beaten Northwestern, was ranked fifth. Their New Year's Day opponents who walloped Illinois, 20-7, clung to seventh place, one step below Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma team's smashing

60-7 romp over Kansas foisted the Sooners from eighth to sixth place. Southern Methodist also advanced two places. S. M. U. was danked eighth after a 13-6 victory over Baylor. Then came Clemson, ninth as it was last week, and Oregon, which finished its campaign with a 10-0 nod over Oregon State. Oregon advanced from 13th to 10th, becoming the only new member in the top ten.

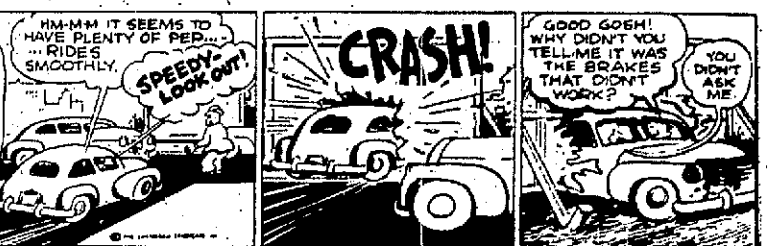

Vanderbilt, No. 15, and William and Mary, No. 20, were the only newcomers in the top 20 as Cornell and Georgia Tech dropped out.

New York (Park Arena)—Mike Jacobs, 181, Jersey City, stopped Sylvester Salter, 187, Cincinnati, 5.

Boxer Stricken After Knockout

Honolulu, Nov. 24 (AP)—Tough Frankie Fernandez, 146½, Honolulu, last night sent Tommy Bell, 146½, Youngstown, Ohio, to a hospital with possible concussion after knocking him out in the final stanza of their 10-round bout.

Bell sprawled on the floor after a flurry of blows from the Puerto Rican and had to be carried to his corner. Bell was rushed to a hospital for further examination.

Fernandez, who hopes for a shot at Sugar Ray Robinson's welterweight title, felled the Ohio Negro three times in the final canto. The final blow was a light tap, but Bell was so fatigued that he went down and could not regain his feet.

Tribe Gets Haynes For Joe Tipton

Cleveland, Nov. 24 (AP)—Pitcher Joe Haynes, one of the few outstanding players on the Chicago White Sox, has been traded to the Cleveland Indians for second-string catcher Joe Tipton. The even trade was announced in Chicago today by Bill Veeck, president of the world champion Cleveland team.

Jap Grid Casualty

Tokyo, Nov. 24 (AP)—Hiroshi Kamiya, 18, quarterback of the Hosei University football team, died today of a broken neck, the first fatality in Japan's adoption of the great American game. Kamiya was injured Sunday when he was tackled.

Maroon Must Win To Take DUSO Crown

The Starting Lineups:

KINGSTON	NEWBURGH
LT Schoff, 25	Eggleston, 58
LT Meyers, 98	Grzybowski, 63
LG Hansen, 75	Conway, 64
C Benincasa, 70	L. Aulogia, 59
RG Rice, 76	Jannotti, 56
RT Gazlay, 86	Ferraiola, 51
RE Albany, 24	Lodato, 61
Q Titus, 26	Ronsini, 50
LF Keyes, 30	D. Aulogia, 60
RF Keating, 28	Tyler, 67
FB Kitsos, 29	Petrillo, 44

Kingston Reserves: Stroble, Trombly, Semilof, Dougherty, Rich, Levy, Kozlowski, Shaughnessy, Weber, Whitman, Barnes, Hendrickson, Crisman, Davenport, Berryann, Lapo, Whitaker, Brown, Mitchell, Weaver.

Newburgh Reserves: L. Ronsini, R. Cavallero, Pulver, Harris, Yozzo, Randolph, Rowman.

Kingston High bids for its second DUSO League football crown in three years in the annual Thanksgiving Day clash against Newburgh in the Hill City and barring a major gridiron catastrophe the favored Maroons should accomplish the trick.

A half game ahead of Port Jervis, the Burckmen can cinch the title by winning or doing anything that Port does against Middletown in another traditional dilly.

Top Clubs Favored

Although form ordinarily does not mean a thing in the annual classics, Kingston and Port Jervis rule solid favorites to win. The tri-staters, however, are expected to encounter stiffer opposition at the hands of the resurgent Middletown.

With the exception of Mike Rienzo, regular left halfback, Kingston will be at full strength for the crucial test. Rienzo, hobbled by a thigh injury, may see some action as a pass receiver and defense back. Harvey Keyes, a great running back, will start at Mike's position.

Newburgh is in top physical trim and has only one absentee—the injured Frank Couillard. Dick Tyler, the Academy's best back, is ready to go.

Eight Sling Swansong

Eight members of Bill Burke's powerhouse will be making their final appearance in a Maroon football uniform.

The notable absentees next year will be the entire first string backfield of Mike Rienzo, Jack Keating, Don Titus and Bill Kitsos. Also graduating are Sal Benincasa, Norm Rice, Lou Fuoco, Joe Albany, and Mort Gazlay of the first team. Bill Shaughnessy, substitute back, also winds up his career.

Few teams in K.H.S. history have ever faced a greater challenge than this 1948 squad which was unexpectedly upended by Port Jervis after setting all-time

DUSO League records in scoring and ground gaining.

Much at Stake

An impressive victory—and the soothsayers predict a couple of touchdowns—would cinch the title for the Burckmen and establish the club as one of the all-time great clevens in Maroon history.

If they lose, they will be relegated to the ranks of the ordinary, despite their awesome performances in early games.

Coach Bill Burke and his staff expect a stiff battle but they feel that Kingston is ready physically and mentally for the great test.

Cloudy Skies Predicted

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—Cloudy skies and moderately cool weather are predicted for New York state on Thanksgiving Day. The Weather Bureau said temperatures tomorrow would range from the middle 30's in the early morning to the upper 40's during the day.

Evacuees Land

Yokohama, Nov. 24 (AP)—The U. S. Army transport Gen. M. M. Patrick arrived today with 2945 American evacuees from China. Fifty-five of them disembarked here and the balance will continue to the United States.

Like U. S. Films

Thirteen of 16 feature films passed by Sweden's censors in a recent month were American productions.

Carry K.H.S. Hopes Against N.F.A.

Bowling Scores

Bea Bailey and Reta Frederick smashed 526 and 524 respectively as the Gardnald powerhouse ground out a 2473 series to win two games from Colonial Diners in last night's session of the Friendship League.

The former WAC had games of 177-163-186, while Mrs. Frederick shot 165-158-201. Marge Janson aided with 321-510. The Tractors were over "800" in three straight sets with 804-808-861-2473.

Fran Kelder of Colonials totaled 511 with 158-172-181. In other matches, Carrie Mohr had 171-473; Valerie Slover 180-513; and B. Arlensky 182-480.

Ray Otto dynamited a 199-539 score to set the pace in the Federation circuit. High scores were relatively scarce, only two others negotiating "500." Jim Little with 191-522 and Jack Haulenbeck with 200-512.

Smiley Doomed

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Court of Appeals affirmed today the first degree murder conviction of an 18-year-old New York youth accused of pushing a girl to her death from the roof of a six-story building. The state's highest tribunal set January 13 for execution of Louis Smiley in the Sing Sing death house. There was no opinion. Six judges concurred. Associate Judge Thomas D. Thatcher took no part. Smiley was indicted with Marvin Dukas, 23, in August, 1947, for killing Mildred McNeil, 19, by "pushing or throwing" her from a Manhattan tenement roof during a quarrel.

Preference Is Denied

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Court of Appeals today upheld a lower court decision denying civil service preference to a coast guard reservist for part-time active duty during World War 2. The state's highest court affirmed dismissal by the Appellate Division of an action brought by Samuel L. Rubin, an Ossining policeman.

Helen T. Ward Returns to Home

Miss Helen T. Ward, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Ward of 97 Clifton avenue, who was among students at the State Teachers College at Cortland burned when a fire swept a sorority house last Sunday, returned to her home here Tuesday.

Mrs. Ward said today that her daughter is now under the care of a local physician and is reported in good condition. She suffered burns of the right hand and arm, the face, and hair was burned on the front of the head.

All of the girls who were not seriously injured were discharged from the hospital at Cortland yesterday at noon. The fire resulted in fatal injuries to two students and a few others were seriously burned.

Miss Ward did not make her way from the burning building to the roof of a porch as was first reported. Mrs. Ward said, but was one of the girls forced to remain on a third floor structural ledge until firemen rescued them.

The fire originated in a rubbish box in a laundry room of the building, according to the Associated Press.

The term "mayor" or "maior" was first used for any person who had supervision of others.

Early Furniture

As early as 1725 Virginia was importing furniture from Boston, New York and Philadelphia, and employing some cabinetmakers to produce considerable volume of fine furniture required by the important plantations.

Manufacturers' Claim

Soap manufacturers claim that soap will kill some germs when used in solutions as weak as one drop of soap to 1,000 drops of water.

Steuding Thanked For Refuse Tips By Poughkeepsie

Ernest A. Steuding, local superintendent of public works, recently received a letter of commendation and thanks for assistance given Poughkeepsie city officials in the bridge city's recent problems of ashes and garbage collections.

The letter to the local superintendent is from Mayor Horace S. Graham of Poughkeepsie who was recently authorized by the Common Council there to take charge of the city's ashes and garbage collection problem.

The councilmen also authorized appointment of a superintendent of sanitation and asked the council's finance committee to estimate first year costs of the project for the city's 1949 budget.

The city has decided to abandon its former method of collecting refuse by private contract and the assistance given by the local superintendent was prior to this week's meeting of the Poughkeepsie Common Council.

The letter follows:

The City of Poughkeepsie
New York

September 13, 1948

Mr. Ernest A. Steuding,
Supt. Board of Public Works,
Kingston, New York

Dear Mr. Steuding:

Mr. Thomas Whalen has turned over to me your very complete specifications and plan for the removal of garbage in the City of Poughkeepsie.

I wish to express my most sincere thanks for your kindness in preparing this plan for us. I know that such a study takes considerable time and the City of Poughkeepsie is much in your debt.

Your plan is especially valuable to us in that the City of Kingston has operated under this method and can point out that the plan not only will work but does.

We also appreciate your kindness in coming to Poughkeepsie to discuss the Kingston method of garbage collection with the Common Council Committee in charge of setting up a new method.

You have been most generous with your time and effort to assist us and on behalf of the City of Poughkeepsie I wish to thank you most sincerely.

Very truly yours,
HORACE S. GRAHAM
Mayor

Five Are Injured

at the time of the collision, the trooper said.

The Herrick car went off the road and struck a tree near the Cornely place. The injured were given first aid near the scene and taken to the hospital in the Gormley ambulance and a Clinton D. Yerry taxi.

State Trooper Dunn said the injured suffered cuts and head injuries, and the hospital had not completed its records by 2 p. m. The three older persons were admitted.

Serious Slide Occurs on Trail Near Ellenville

A serious rock slide on Route 52, Shawangunk Mountain Trail, about a half mile east of the village of Ellenville, Tuesday evening about 9:30 o'clock deposited more than 2,000 cubic yards of rock on the highway, completely blocking the roadway. Harry Krum, Ulster county assistant engineer for the New York State Highway Department, stated at noon today that he expected to have one way traffic moving by night if a crane sent from Kingston arrived in time to go to work this afternoon.

It will take two weeks to clear up the slide which closed some 200 feet of the Shawangunk Trail. State troopers have been notified to warn traffic of the condition. Traffic is being maintained over the mountain over the detour through Cragmoor and down the Gully Road.

At the scene today was Oscar Blumenauer, local state highway foreman; George Hermann, a crane operator for the state and William Reed, New York State Department of Public Works safety engineer from the Poughkeepsie office.

Some of the slabs of rock which cover the highway to a depth of several feet from the outer edge of the road to the ditch are four feet thick or more. It is believed the slide was caused by recent wet weather which softened a mud seam under the rock and caused the big slabs to break off and slide over the road. The rock, several feet in depth on the bank side of the road, is fully two feet deep on the gully side of the road.

Liner Won't Sail

Southampton, Eng., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Cunard White Star line gave up hope today of sailing the strike-bound S.S. Queen Elizabeth to New York for the time being and advised the nearly 1,500 passengers aboard to go ashore. They have been aboard at the line's expense since Friday night. Members of the liner's crew, after a sympathy strike Saturday in support of U. S. longshoremen, obtained a promise from Cunard the liner would not sail until the east coast tieup ends.

HOIST FOR PLATFORM BODY TRUCKS

This is "the red hoist that has made history" on farms, in lumber yards and other industrial installations. DUMPING the load multiplies the number of jobs a truck can do in a day. Cash savings from man hours saved will show an early profit on your investment.

- DUMP IT! Has these 4 big features:
1. Channel Steel Longbeams replace your truck's wooden longitudinal.
  2. Full length subframe reinforces truck frame. Body mounting height is not creased.
  3. Overload safety valve protects your investment; oil by-passes under excess loads, preventing breakage.
  4. Safety lock holds body down. No tipping from load shifting to rear of bed.

Looks Like 'Big' Legion Conventions Are Out

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—The American Legion may hold no more "big" conventions after its 1949 national conclave in Philadelphia, says Judge Vincent A. Carroll, chairman of the organization's convention commission. Judge Carroll, a Philadelphia jurist, told a meeting of the Legion's local council last night that the national convention has outgrown the facilities of all but three cities. He did not name the cities.

Pay Rates Unchanged
Detroit, Nov. 24 (AP)—Pay rates of General Motors' 270,000 production workers remained unchanged today despite the reported slight drop in the cost of living. G.M.'s wages are geared in part to the government's cost of living index under the agreement signed with the C.I.O. United Auto Workers last May. The reduction in the index, however, was too small to make a difference.
